Dedication

To the boys of the K. S. N. S., who have served our country in the army and navy both at home and abroad, the Class of 1919 gratefully dedicates
this book.

Roll of Honor

The following list of K. S. N. S. men in service, has been prepared by Professor Mercer, Professor Anderson and Miss Brown. In Memoriam

CLARENCE M. OLSEN

89th Div., Co. F. 355 Inf.
Wounded in the Battle of Argonne Forest
Died in a hospital in France
December 2, 1918.

War Activities

THE country's call our Alma Mater sent her share of sons. Three of them paid the supreme sacrifice, Clarence Olsen, whose body now lies in France, Floyd Hedglin, who went down with "The President Lincoln" and Chaplain Wilby, who died at sea. One member of the faculty, Miss Anna Caldwell, is in Y. W. C. A. War Work.

But the "stay-at-homes" also had a part in the various types of War Work. In April, 1918 a surgical dressing room was equipped. Eleven faculty ladies took a special Supervisor's course in this work and under their direction several quotas were filled. In September 1917 a knitting class was organized and during the school year about 800 sweaters and many other articles were completed. Mrs. Weller's sewing class and the higher grades of the Training School made about two hundred hospital and refugee garments. Seven quilts were made.

Under Miss Hick's supervision the Y. W. girls pieced a crazy-quilt. They also made numerous scrap books for the wounded soldiers. Several classes in school took up the last idea and turned in creditable "drive away dull care" material.

The Junior Red Cross of the Training School secured a 100 per cent membership. Even the Kindergarten babies saved five dollars worth of tin foil for the cause.

In January, 1918 the Dramatic Club gave a play, "The Spell of the Image," clearing $100 for the Red Cross. At the opening of the new Auditorium the Music Department gave a concert at which a free will offering amounting to $75 was turned over to the Red Cross.

Professor Sipple as county chairman of the Liberty Boys and Girls, reported that they "never failed to raise their quotas." Professor Noyer who was chairman of the Four-Minute-Men, took up the work with his Public Speaking Class. Oscar Drake and Leonard Gillett secured commissions as regular Minute Men.

The Catholic Club in conjunction with the Knights of Columbus raised money for the K. O. C. work among the soldiers. The Y. M. C. A. Drive in the fall of 1917 netted $2000.00 and the United War Drive went over the top to the jingle of $2907.25, $131 of which was given by the Training School. During the campaign the pageant "United We Serve" written and directed by the Misses Abbott and Twetten was presented by fifty students.

Miss Jennings and the library force collected 1200 books for the soldiers and sent 2 boxes of magazines and 100 text books to Camps. The Antelope has been sent to as many of our boys as possible and the students followed the Burleson orders, sending on their magazines.

The school was ready to respond to the call of the helpless orphans of France. Thru Mrs. Brindley's tireless efforts a child has been adopted by each of the following: the Faculty, Mrs. Brindley, Girls of Green Terrace Hall, Y. W. C. A., Catholic Club, and the student boarders of the dormitory dining-room who went without a meal to save the money. Mr. Saunders added enough to make up the required amount. The Class of 1917 took two orphans under their care.

Allied flags were made by the Class of 1919 and presented to the school in April 1918 when "Masque of Liberty" was given.

Many persons whose work is unrecorded have had a share in K. S. N. S. War Service.

S. A. T. C.

The Student Army Training Corps of the Kearney State Normal School was organized early in October, 1918, and was demobilized December 10, 1918. The new gymnasium was given over to the government to be used as barracks, and here the seventy-one members of the corps were comfortably quartered. The officers in charge of the S. A. T. C. were Commandant Oscar Vickstrom, First Lieutenant, and Adjutant Edward Himmel, Second Lieutenant.

The Faculty

The faculty members of K. S. N. S.,
We think of as wonderful sages:
To aid us in keeping our memories clear,
We'll look on the following pages.

They're a dignified bunch, you'll have to admit,
And their faces are (some of them) charming;
For brains and for gumption they cannot be beat,
And their wisdom is simply alarming.

They're made up of traits that are virile and true,
And they're full of the thing you call "pep;"
They know how to smile away moods that are blue
But you'd better know how to "keep step."

Departments of this and departments of that,
Are headed by experts nigh royal,
Who know all about the wherefore and the what,
From art to the products of soil.

The faculty members of K. S. N. S.
We appreciate more than they know;
We wish them the height of success in their work,
And honor wherever they go.
—Mary Jackson.

Campus Extension

THE K. S. N. S. has adopted as a slogan, "The State of Nebraska is our Campus." This slogan expresses the feeling of the school in regard to its opportunity and responsibility for meeting the educational needs of the people. The value of a school is measured by the function it performs in the lives of its constituents. So, more and more, the members of this school are endeavoring to reach out and touch those to whom they are responsible.

One phase of this extension work is the giving of speeches by Faculty members. Dean Martin is called upon for lectures in many parts of the state, Professor Noyer gives addresses in numerous towns, and Professor Sipple spends much time and effort in the organization and encouragement of Community Work. Miss Wirt, Miss Jennings and others have also given talks at various schools.

Perhaps one of the most effective parts of the work is done in the Study Centers. Miss Crawford is teaching English Literature at Grand Island, Professor Pate teaches College Algebra and Trigonometry at Baird, Miss Hosie has a class in French at Elmcreek, Professor Sipple has classes in School Management at Alma and Ragan, and Dr. Shreves has a large group in Class Management at Grand Island. It is the plan of the Study Centers to meet once a month. The purpose of the work is to enable those who cannot attend school to continue their studies along educational lines and to keep in touch with up-to-the-minute methods.

The Victor school and the Glenwood community service are two important features of the plan. At Glenwood, a beautiful new school house, fully equipped for all kinds of community service has been built and dedicated. Here Professor Sipple and Miss Twetten have worked tirelessly to build up the community organizations.

The Band and Orchestra "play their part" in Campus Extension by going to neighboring towns to furnish music for different events. For two years Professor B. H. Patterson has taken his band to the Stapleton fair.

Students are frequently sent out to give programs of music, readings and plays at Community Centers.

"Thank Goodness the Table is Spread" was given at the Glenwood dedication program and the "Two Dicks" was staged at Riverdale.

The value to the students doing this extension work is two-fold; it trains for public appearance and leadership, and it instills the necessary community interest for effective school-life service.

It is the hope of the K. S. N. S. that the work will grow until the slogan is fulfilled and "Our Campus is the State of Nebraska."

To the left is shown the Glenwood school, pronounced by Dr. H. W. Foght, Chief of the Rural School Division, U. S. Bureau of Education, Washington, D. C., "the best one room rural school I know of." Requests for the plans of this building have come to Mr. Sipple from two-thirds of the states in the Union, and from educational officials in Canada.

The car at the right is the one used by Mr. Sipple in his supervision work and in transporting students in the rural department to the two demonstration schools where they do practical teaching and observation work. Mr. Sipple and a student teacher are just setting forth for the Glenwood school.

"A Little Learning is a Dangerous Thing."

OUR CREED.

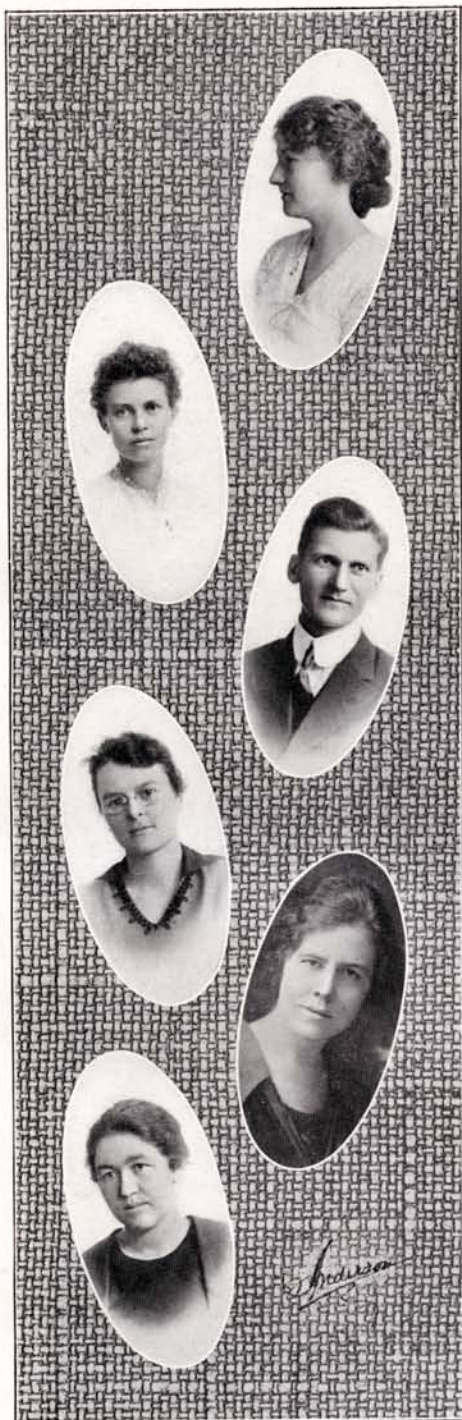

Never "Je ne peux pas," but "Je Veux. "We will endeavor to build wisely, work cheerfully, cherish friendship, be loyal to ourselves, our class, our Alma Mater."

From year to year the number of students who return to K. S. N. S. for Senior College work grows. The largest enrollment so far was in the summer of 1918, when the class numbered ninety six. Particularly since the school has offered special advanced courses leading to the Degree of Bachelor of Arts, has the number doing Post Graduate work increased. This degree qualifies the student to teach in any High School in the state and enables the holder to enter any graduate college and work directly for the Masters Degree.

During the summer of 1918 the class took a prominent part in all the activities of the school. Early in the term they entertained the faculty and students at a lawn fete. Games, music and a pageant furnished entertainment. Light refreshments were served. At commencement time the class presented a play written by one of the sponsors, Dean George E. Martin. This play was entitled "The Two Lamps of Aladdin" and was presented in the school auditorium July 19, 1918.

A Post Graduate class was first organized at K. S. N. S. in the fall of 1916, and to celebrate the occasion, the class gave a banquet. Each succeeding class, has followed their example, and the annual Mid-Year's banquet has become one of the most enjoyable events of the year. This winter, places were laid for twenty-four. Miss Courtright acted as Toast Mistress. Toasts were given by Louise Luedtke, Otto Olson, Ruth King and Dean Martin.

The class will send a copy of the bulletin to every graduate as well as to others who may be interested. We hope it will recall many, not only to the party, but to remain and work for an A. B.

*The Evolution of
The Class of 1919*

Senior Class History

We will tell in joyful numbers
How the class, nineteen-nineteen,
E'er has been the most progressive
That K. S. N. S. has seen.

We showed wisdom, when, as Freshies,
We chose sponsors, Shreves and Riggs
And that first grand roast of weenies
Beat a car-load of roast pigs.

Whence the tree at our Christmas party
Eggleston, Kring and Gust can tell,
But the sleigh-ride and feed at Tompkins
Was a treat (though no snow fell.)

Girls were scarcer things than boys were
For Leap Year's St. Valentine,
But the boys who went all lonely
Were gay as those with escorts fine.

Crimson hats with snow-white trimmings
Gaily wore each Sophomore:
We gave the Freshies such a picnic
As they'd never had before.

Girls were still scarce, so at Christmas,
Gust and others became girls;
When we masked on Cupids Birthday,
Dewey came in skirts and curls.

"Jolly Juniors" next they called us,
But two things our hearts bemoaned,
Sponsor Riggs was not here with us,
The picnic "indefinitely postponed."

Christmas time we pulled some taffy
And later on shot Cupid's darts;
In May we cooked and served a banquet
For the Seniors, bless their hearts!

Now as Seniors, we remind you
Of our "pep" and "go" again,
Though departing, we're behind you
For the good of K. S. N.

The Jolly Juniors, with Miss Carrie Ludden and Dr. J. H. Stoutemyer as sponsors, organized in the autumn of 1916. We have tried to follow the class motto: "Our business is looking upward." We started out right by completely crushing the Sophomores in basket ball; perhaps that is why the present Senior class has always looked up to us. Throughout our Sophomore year we have had many good times together, especially on Hallow'een, St. Patrick's day, and at our Library Party. From the first year the Class of 1920 has been noted for early rising, for we have had several delightful breakfasts at the lake.

As a convocation program we presented the patriotic pageant; "The Flags of Our Nation" written by our class sponsor, Dr. J. H. Stoutemyer. Our class also showed their patriotism by ranking high in the Red Cross and United War Work drives and by making many surgical dressings.

Although the Class of 1919 claims Clarence Olsen as a member, yet he was with us a year and a half. We all remember him as an "Irish Laddie" and in the character of "A Gentleman Vagabond."

We entered our Junior Year with a strong determination to lead all other classes, and we have more than succeeded. We have taught the other classes how to yell, and have showed the Seniors how to sing the Junior song. We would suggest that the Seniors learn their own song, altho' they do like our's better. We are now receiving the deference which is our due as the Seniors were kind enough to permit us to have our pictures taken before they broke the camera.

In the fall of 1918 we had our picnic on Courtright's lawn. Here we became better acquainted as we roasted "spuds" and "dogs" over the camp fire. After Christmas we gave a party for the Seniors. We made them sharpen their wits over puzzles and taught them how to play "Peek-a-boo." We hope they had a good time. We Juniors are especially proud of two Senior pennants which we possess. We want to assure the Seniors that we will carefully preserve these pennants in the ash heap, while our purple and white banner floats on high.

We are sure that the class of 1920 will always be remembered as one of the jolliest classes ever organized.

"A new wave on the ocean of life" is the way
In which poets speak of a baby,
But the neighbors who call the cross child
"a fresh squall"
Are nearer true realists, maybe.

The class of 1921 gave its "first squall" on a September day in 1917. It was a lusty cry and we were "heard from" frequently during that first year of our career as Freshman.

Parties, parades, picnics, war activities and the purchase of a "Baby Bond" were some of our undertakings.

In the spring of 1918 we tested our dramatic ability in a spectacular pageant "The Spirit of Democracy."

Even the "Antelope" Editor recognized our extreme cleverness and invited us to "put out" a weekly edition of the paper (the April first number.)

One of our members, Ralph Adams, was among the first students to enlist in the army and Winnie Gassner joined the ranks of the Red Cross Nurses.

In September 1918, we were duly christened Sophomores and forgetting the accustomed bitter antagonism against "our natural enemy" we helped the Seniors entertain the Juniors and Freshmen at the Annual School Picnic.

With a joy in service "we went over the top" in the Y. M. C. A. and War Campaign Drives.

Our social events have been somewhat fewer this year than last. Perhaps the most enjoyable party occurred in the early part of the second semester. The committee gave us an exceedingly good time.

The monthly programs put on by the different groups of the class have shown that we do not lack in literary ability.

We are now looking forward to the time when we will become "Jolly Juniors" and we hope the Freshman will follow in the footsteps of their worthy predecessors.

"He that tooteth not his own horn,
The same shall not be tooted"

Class Song

"WE ARE THE FRESHMEN"

(Tune—"We're Going Over.")

We are the Freshmen, We are the Freshmen,
 You'll find us always quick to learn,
 Ever ready in our turn,
 To boost the Juniors, To rout the Seniors
 While the Sophs, we quite ignore,
 But we'll show you what the class of '22 can do,
 When we finish up that score.

—Vinnie Shawkey.

At the beginning of the school year, President Dick, appointed Miss Hanthorne and Mr. Engleman as class sponsors.

The first meeting was called to order by Mr. Engleman for the purpose of organization. At the later meeting, the above named officers were elected.

The first social event of the year was held Saturday afternoon, September 20, when the Freshmen attended a picnic on Courtright's lawn given to them by the Sophomore class.

The Freshmen held their first picnic Friday evening, October 11, on the banks of the Kearney Canal. Part of the time was spent in playing games after which the refreshment committee served weenies, buns and coffee.

The class voted to have a Hallowe'en party, but on account of Influenza the event was indefinitely postponed. The party took place January 24, in the large music room, when an enjoyable time was spent in the playing of games. Ice-cream and wafers were served.

On November 12, talks on the United War Work Campaign were given by Eugene Beachy and Laura Rundle after which the class was divided into ten groups, each under a leader to receive pledges in his or her group for the above named work. During this campaign they succeeded in securing pledges for $351.50.

FRESHMAN CLASS.

A Song For The Summer School Student

By BESS FURMAN.

I sing a song of the summer time
Of a story seldom told
For never indeed in prose or rhyme
Does this tribe emerge in the light called lime
In the book of the "Blue and Gold."

Ah, there's no one at all to tell the tale,
And there's not a tongue to praise
The school-marm ambitious, that mad female
Who follows hot on the knowledge trail
In the blistering summer days.

She has no taste of the spring school lore,
She's off to teach in the fall,
Nine months of work, then a summer more,
And she comes to feel that Excelsior
Is but saw-dust after all.

Perhaps she dreams of an evening date
With debonair dudes or frats,
But the summer school-marm, in aggregate,
In her wilted, work-worn, weary state,
Makes the average male but ejaculate
With fervor, "Suffering Cats!"

For nine long months must the school marm hoard
Her pittance so strangely small,
That eight weeks of school she may afford,
Buy clothes and pay for her room and board
At 3:50 per—Green Terrace Hall.

Now certainly there should be a spot
In the book called the "Blue and Gold"
Where one may plant a forget-me-not
For the girl who toils when the wind is hot
And nothing else is cold.
For let me whisper a secret true
'Tis then that the sky is the bluest blue,
And the sun is the goldest gold.

Organizations

HERE are sixteen organizations in the K. S. N. S. representing the varied activities of the school.

The three Christian organizations are the Y. M. C. A., and the Y. W. C. A. and the Catholic Club. The Y. M. C. A. strives to meet the needs of the men of the school. It holds weekly devotional meetings and also weekly "mixers" for a good time and athletics. It is prominent in carrying on school socials and parties. Last year the Y. M. C. A. sent Otis Snedeker to the Central Division Conference at Lake Geneva, Wis., and Otis Snedeker and Gus Hohlfeld to the State Conference at Crete.

The Y. W. C. A. does for the young women what the Y. M. C. A. does for the men. The work is divided among eight committees each committee having as advisor a faculty member. The association is always active in all school projects, religious, social, patriotic and civic. The Misses Maude and Margaret Murphy, and Annamae and Ruth Rystrom represented the Y. W. C. A. at Lake Geneva last summer, and Miss Louise Miller was a delegate to the National Conference at Chicago in February.

The Catholic Students' Association offers an opportunity for Catholic students at K. S. N. S. to associate together and to help in promoting the commendable movements which are presented to the Christian organizations. The club follows a regular schedule of work, endeavoring to correlate religious training with subjects of the school curriculum. In 1918 the Knights of Columbus of Nebraska furnished for the association a beautiful club room, excellently equipped as to furniture and containing a splendid library of books and magazines.

Of departmental organizations in the school there are six at present. The boys' debating society is called the Emanon Literary Society. To do the right thing at the right time, in the right way; to do some things better than they were ever done before, to know both sides of a question; to be courteous; to be an example; to work for the love of the work; to anticipate requirements; to recognize no impediments; to master circumstances; to act from reason rather than rule; to be satisfied with nothing short of perfection—these are the aims and purposes of every Emanon.

The Aspasian Literary Society is an organization of the girls, whose purpose is to give opportunity for development along the lines of clear thinking and forceful expression. At the weekly meetings, varied programs are given. The society has frequently been represented in the Interscholastic Debates, where the members have acquitted themselves with credit.

The Academy of Science and Mathematics offers incentives and affords opportunities for students to exchange thoughts and compare ideas along lines of investigation in the sciences and mathematics. It is intended particularly for students doing major work in these subjects, but the monthly meetings are open to visitors.

The French Club supplements the "Realien" of the class-room and gives additional opportunity for using the language by means of parliamentary drill, songs, plays and games. The club has an enrollment of thirty-eight members.

The aims of the Music Supervisor's Club are: To promote a knowledge of conditions in the world of Public School Music; to bring about a social sense so necessary to a new Supervisor going into new fields; to keep in touch with vacancies where the girls may be placed; and to act as a bureau of information for the Music Supervisors.

The Primary-Kindergarten Bund is the oldest organization in the school. Its purpose is to allow its members at each of the monthly meetings to once again partake of the joys of childhood. The Bund slogan is: "Be happy, stay young."

The three musical organizations are the Cecilian Glee Club, the Band and the Orchestra.

All the girls in school are invited to "try out" for Glee Club work. They appear in special musical numbers given for different organizations of the school and of the city, and also in a Concert or an Operetta, one of which is given each year.

The Band has a membership of about thirty and offers an opportunity for players of band instruments to secure valuable training of ensemble playing. Besides furnishing lively music for the athletic events, it prepares two programs during the school year, one of which is its annual spring concert. The programs presented are high-class and would be a credit to any organization of professional musicians.

The orchestra, which, like the organization above, is directed by Prof. B. H. Patterson, is composed of about fifteen pieces. At school functions the orchestra is always present and is always able to adapt its class of music to the occasion. The organization furnishes music for all convocation exercises and is a popular and useful organization.

The two largest social organizations are Rural Club and Dramatic Club. The purpose of the Rural Club is to develop students as rural community leaders. The programs are of three parts; musical, literary, social. The membership is made up from all departments, but is especially valuable for those interested in rural problems.

The Dramatic Club, as the name implies, is an organization for the development of histrionic ability. It is a large, wide-awake club giving freedom of body, as well as mind, to its members, helping them to become acquainted with good plays, and cultivating personal poise so necessary in a well rounded life. Varied programs are given each month in some hospitable Kearney home and the Annual Public Play is always an "event" in the school calendar.

The Camp Fire, now composed of twenty girls, was organized in K. S. N. S. in 1914. Since that time two hundred and fifty girls have tried to catch the Camp Fire Spirit of wholesome, happy, helpful living attained through Work, Health and Love. The slogan is "Wohelo."

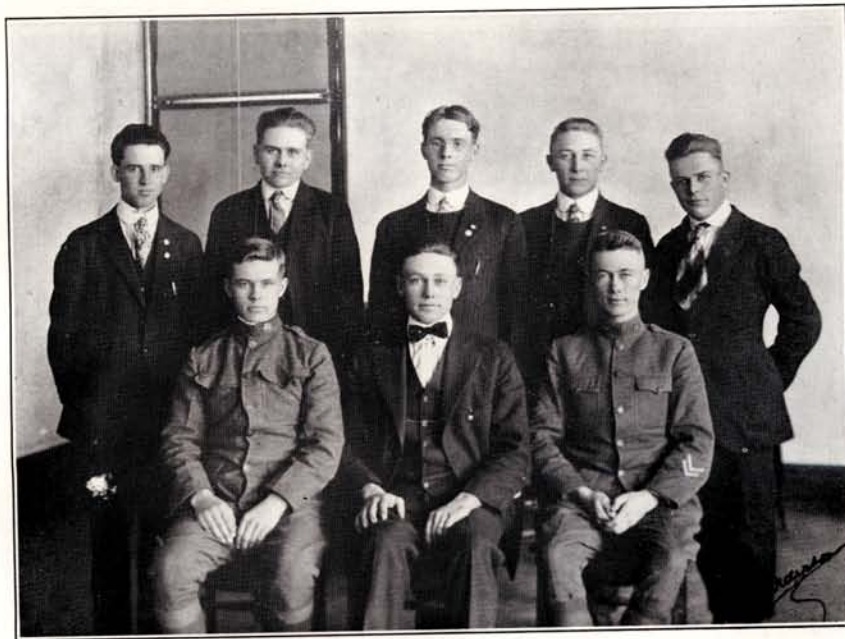

The Dean's Council was organized in 1917 by Dean Gardner. It is composed of the Dean of Women and girl representatives from each of the classes, some of the organizations, Green Terrace Hall, and from the girls rooming in town. The aims of the Council are: To promote unity among the young women of the school, to have at interest the general problems of the school and to be a medium by which standards may be kept. The Council members are active in social and patriotic activities especially in the May Day party and the Mother's Day celebration.

SHE WAS SURE.

"Isn't he rather fast, dear?" asked anxious Mrs. Brindley.
"Yes ma'am," replied Eva, "but I don't think he will get away."

A NIGHTMARE.

Miss Brown: "I dreamed I was married last night."
Miss Wirt: "Were you happy?"
Miss Brown: "Yes, when I awakened."

IN NO HURRY.

Mr. Noyer in S. S. class: "How many of you boys want to go to Heaven?"
All hands went up except Gust's.
Mr. Noyer: "Why, Gust, don't you want to go to heaven?"
Gust: "Yes'er, but not yet."

CHILDREN TELL THE TRUTH.

Father: "Where's my umbrella? I can't find it at all."
Johnny K: "I'll bet I know who took it."
Father: "Who?"
Johnny: "I'll bet it was Clive. I heard him say to Dorothy, 'I'm going to steal one;' and he must have taken yours."

Beachy: "Why did the salt shaker?"
Irene: "I don't know."
Beachy: "He saw the spoon holder and the potato smasher and the lemon squeezer."

GOOD AND INEXPENSIVE

Good taste is not measured by the size of the purse. Nor are the new stocks you'll find ready here—not how much, nor how little, but how GOOD, determines the question of the admittance of the merchandise to Kaufmann & Wernert's Department Store. At the point where cheapness steps in and cripples the good service you may expect of merchandise.

We stop, and no outside appearance will induce us to substitute poor quality for that which is good and reliable. Adhering to these "Iron-Clad" determinations makes it

"A GOOD PLACE TO TRADE."

Do You Need Glasses?

Often glasses are necessary
where the vision seems perfect.
Delicate muscles are put to too much strain to hold the eyes in focus.

Squinting and frowning are characteristic of this trouble. Headaches, eye strain and in-

Members of faculty: "This is Mr. Aickman."

Mr. Aickman: "I'm Aickman, but I'm not a doctor."

Prof. Noyer: "And this is Mr. Bunney, but he isn't a rabbit."

Edd Ptacek: Did anyone comment on the way you handled your Ford since you got it fixed?

Wilber Parker: One man did, but he didn't say much.

Edd: What did he say?

Wilber: All he said was, "fifty dollars and costs."

Hartman: I say, Cleve, that's a bad cold you have. How did you come by it.

Clive: Sudden change of atmosphere. Pushed right out of a warm smile into a cold shoulder and a frigid look.

Magistrate: Great Scot! officers, how did these men come to be so badly bruised and battered up?

Officer: Please, your honor, they were discussing the peace settlement.

Harms: Don't you think it would be foolish for me to marry a girl who was my intellectual inferior?

Mincer: Worse than foolish, it would be impossible.

Mrs. Pate: Have you seen the lady candidate I told you to vote for?

Mr. Pate: Yes, and she's a peach.

Mrs. Pate: Um, I guess we'll vote the other way.

THE LICENSE.

A young Swede appeared at the county judge's office and asked for a license.

"What kind of a license?" asked the judge. "A hunting license?"

"No," was the answer. "Aye tank aye bane hunting long enough. Aye want a marriage license."

HER COMPLAINT.

Then put so much stuff in the way,

One cannot see one's self?"

HOMESTEADED!

In History of Ed. class. Miss Peterson inquiring about land ownership in France.

Dr. Stoutemyer: "Oh, Miss Peterson, it's just like our eighty out here."

Softly, from rear of room: "Since when?"

Two days before the Blue and Gold went to the printer, Miss Abbott: How long is it till April first?

Miss Riggs: Three pages.

Junior: I thought you took zoology last semester.

Senior: I did, but Miss Ludden encored me.

AN INTELLIGENT BOVINE.

A group of farmers crowded around the postoffice window to get their mail, when one of them shouted, "Any mail for Mike Howe?"

The postmaster, a stranger in the community, glared at him over the rims of his spectacles and shouted back, "No, not for your cow, nor for anybody else's cow."

Mrs. Sutton: "To what party does your husband belong?"

Mrs. Wellers: "I'm the party."

A BAD MISTAKE.

A lady member of the faculty was filling out a blank at the courthouse and stated her age as 38. The next day she came back and asked that the age be changed to 32.

The notary asked, "How did you happen to make such a mistake?"

"Well you see, yesterday I gave you my bust-measure."

THE TWO MOST ABSENT-MINDED PEOPLE.

"Fred, who thought that he had left his watch at home and took it out of his pocket to see if he had time to go back and get it." And Mr. Stryker who said: "Class, I will be back in ten minutes," and on his return sat down on the stairs to wait for himself.
