I N MEMORIUM

MISS VERA MARIE BARTI

Comstock, Nebraska

Born August 11, 1937

Died October 22, 1956

Forebearing one another,
and forgiving one another;
if any man have a quarrel against any: Even as Christ forgave you, so also do ye.

Col. 3:13

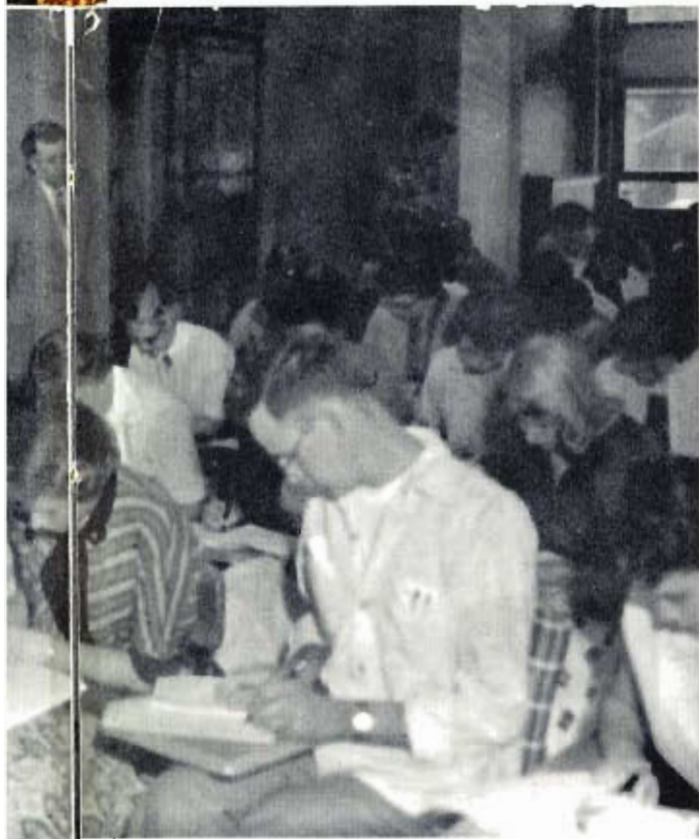

Freshmen Week is first! All must go through it—and the college does everything in its power to make the week at least semi-enjoyable. During Freshmen Week we find ourselves involved and exposed to many of the facets of college life. Activity is high on the list of social exposure. Freshmen are tested, exhibited to, propagandized at, and guided hither and yon.

One thing is sure—during Freshmen Week one learns how to stand in line. Other useful skills acquired are: how to mark standard exam sheets, how to look like you are absorbing all that's being told you, and how not to do anything unless it's required. And you don't even "earn as you learn."

Would-be freshmen pay strict attention to business as they mark special exam sheets with their special pencils. In the history of our college no one has ever flunked his IQ test.

Our Campus Grows...

Kearney has suffered growing pains the last few years. She has adjusted admirably, however. Amidst the turmoil that results in a doubling of enrollment over a period of 4 years we suddenly found ourselves lacking in facilities. Our Student Union is obviously inadequate to the needs of the campus. As one student put it "I picked my own pocket twice before I knew it." Because of inadequate housing conditions many students were subjected to the wrath of the "feather merchants," who have more respect for the dollar than for humanity. Suddenly, thanks to the untiring efforts of our great President, we have three new buildings in the making. Approximately $1,000,000 dollars is being expended on this project. We could use another million to correct some of the other inadequacies, however, we must be patient because we know that time is a healer of all things.

Student Union to be located directly across from Men's Hall

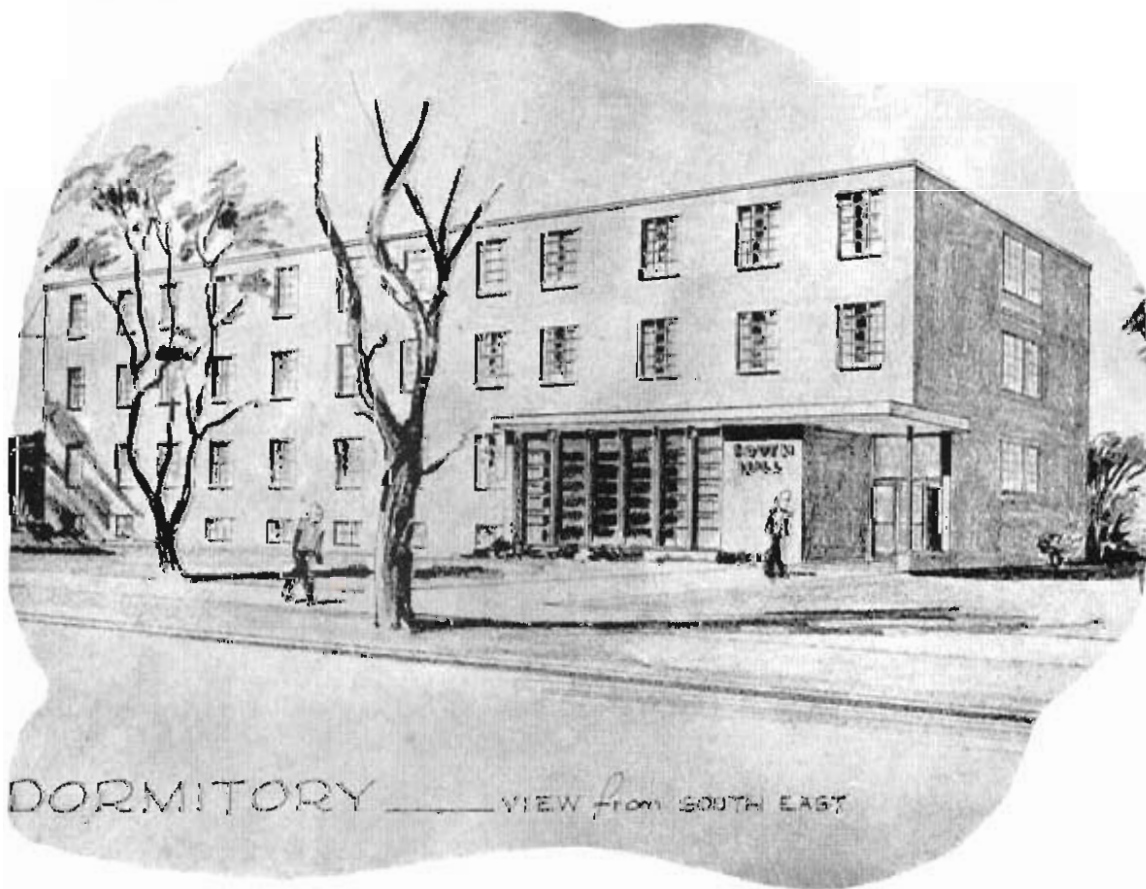

Women's Dormitory to be located directly behind Green Terrace Hall

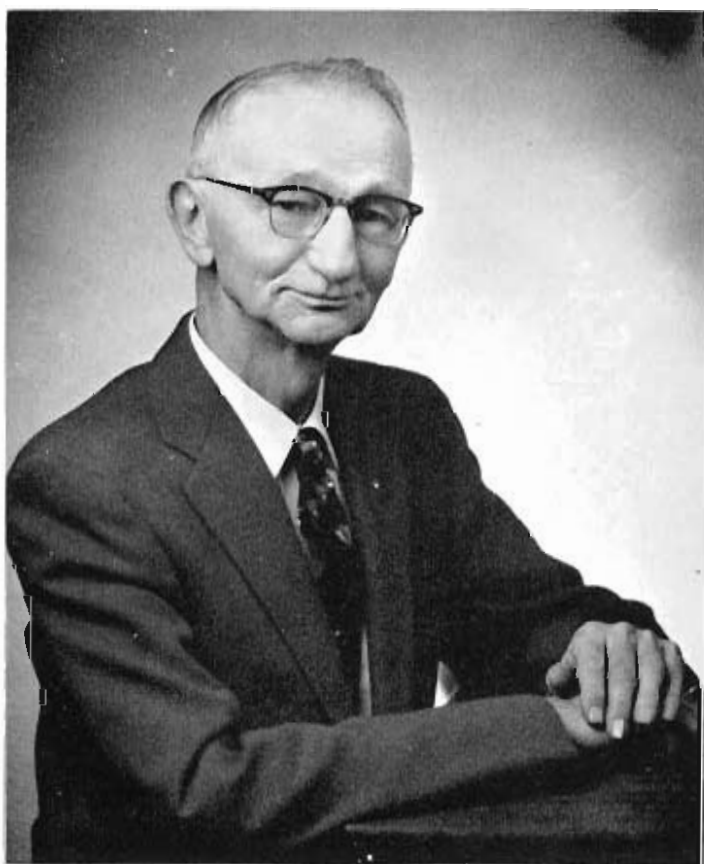

Men's Dormitory to be located adjacent to Men's Hall on the site formerly occupied by the tennis courts.

Nebraska State's Faculty: Helping To Create That Commodity Called An Intelligent Individual.

To name and honor the professors at Kearney who are at the top of their fields, a volume would serve better than these two pages. There are faculty members at Kearney who are not good instructors, but there are many more who are. And it must be remembered that a definition of the genius of a good instructor includes more than his teaching techniques. And though all are teachers, not all are scholars. Perhaps most irritating to the Kearney Student, is the lack of intellectual freedom he observes in the positions of his instructors. The instructor often precedes any discussion on a sensitive subject with the words such as, "Now, don't misunderstand me, I'm not advocating what I say." And so on. The student is young enough to have ideals. He has not yet learned the near-sordid compromises that must be made in actual life. He may have observed, for instance, that there is cut-throat competition and repression of initiative in many careers, but he has not yet learned that that condition prevails in the near revered profession of a college professor. But he is also buoyed by the knowledge that there are many professors who refuse to make these compromises.

Professor Calvin T. Ryan is not afraid to make his students work. As Chairman of the English Department, Mr. Ryan is a master at holding a class audience. He evolves each piece of literature into a portrait as sensitive as his own. The English major and graduate values him as a warm friend and a competent judge. Mr. Ryan has been a strong public relations attribute for NSTC in his educational and religious talks on KGFV radio. To list all of his attributes here would be impossible. Through the years we will remember C. T. as a valued friend because we value what he gave.

As Chairman of the Industrial Arts department Otto Olson is one of the most devoted instructors of the NSTC family. Having first enrolled at NSTC in 1912 Mr. Olson later returned in 1919 and began teaching in the industrial education field. Over the years Mr. Olson has, through hard work and patience, developed the industrial education program at NSTC into one of the very best in the nation. Mr. Olson will retire as of September 1, 1957. It will not be as pleasant with him gone.

As Assistant Professor of Biology, Harvey Cole is by no means bound to the laboratory and classroom. He has always been fervently dedicated to all of the aspects of student life. A man with a hearty laugh, he easily impresses his students both in the classroom and in the laboratory. Professor Cole this year has been advisor to the Chapel Committee and is a member of the Kearney Chamber of Commerce, Agricultural Committee.

Richard Welsbacher is an Associate Professor of Speech. With his arrival on the NSTC campus in 1953 we witnessed a sudden up-swing in the dramatics art field. It is difficult to recognize all of his accomplishments here. Speech students will value through the years the guidance he has given in this field. In our opinion his direction of the "Crucible" equals the very best of stage presentations.

Cheerleaders...

Nebraska State's Cheerleaders add the flash and sparkle that is necessary to arouse the spirits of our football fans. A cheerleader leads a busy life — pep rallies, games, making signs, etc. Cheerleaders this year were Larry Collison, Peggy Parsons, Joy Robinson, Jean Nelson, Phyllis Jablonski, and Dale Black.

NSC Marching Band...

The marching band is famous for its formations. During the home football games we witnessed the band executing many difficult and seemingly impossible formations. This year's band was under the direction of Baton Master Donald Mason.

He was graduated in the class of 1933. It was Nebraska State Normal then. He came back to visit his alma mater in 1956. Thirty three years had passed so quickly that it seemed almost incredible. Many buildings, the instructors, the administration, even the students, had changed entirely. He enjoyed his visit even though he thought that he should be helping. It seemed strange to be merely a spectator on the sidelines. He witnessed a beautiful girl crowned queen in an impressive ceremony, saw a winning football team and attended a good dance. It was a nostalgic time. He was glad that he had come back to see Kearney of 1956.

Homecoming

Homecoming Queen

BERNADINE ECKOUT

The highlight of Homecoming activity is the crowning of the Homecoming Queen. Candidates for this year's queen were Barb Viren, Joyce Shields, Noreen Wurdeman, Marilyn Hinkle and Bernadine Eckout. From this group the students elected "Bert" as their choice for the girl that they would most like to be stranded on a football field with.

SERVICE AWARDS

In years past it has been the tradition to select a Blue and Gold Queen. This year we have broken that tradition, in one respect, to express our gratitude to the outstanding senior boy and girl who have contributed most, service wise, to NSTC. Selection for this award was in part a difficult task. There are many who contribute of their time and effort with little or no recognition. However, we set out to select those who have given that extra little that has been needed to promote the activities of NSTC. A committee of twenty-eight, including the Deans, Social Organization Presidents, Government Presidents, Advisors, Administrative Officers, and others, were given the opportunity of voting for the person they thought to be most deserving. We are sure that no one will question but that the nominations are truly deserving of this award. It is our pleasure to give recognition to Mr. James Mitchell, of Orleans, and Miss Leora Rippen, of Gothenburg, for their contributions to our school.

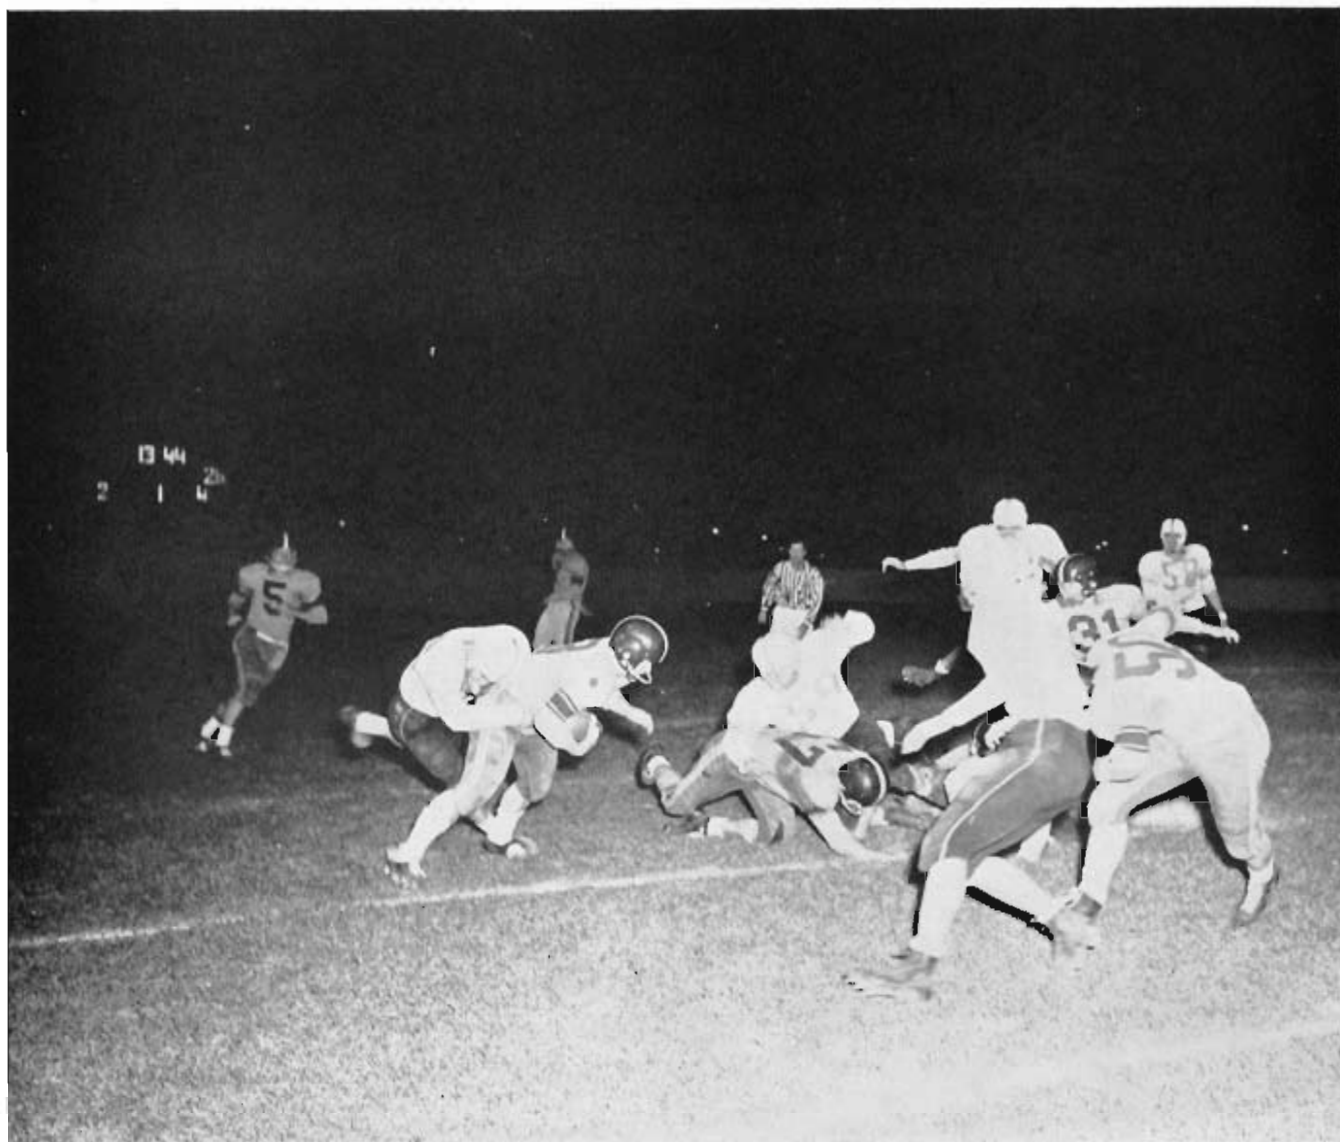

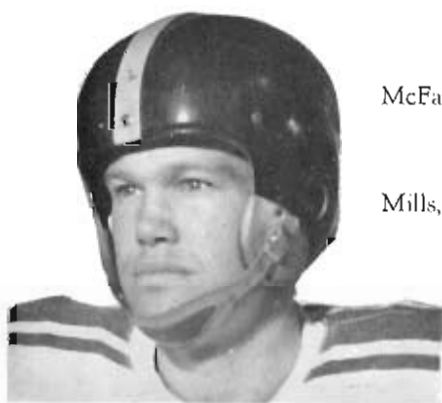

When it was twilight on the football field, the aspiring footballers were still going hard at the old game of rock-and-sock. The boys worked hard, the coaches worked hard, and the managers were hard pressed to keep up with both groups. The end result was anything but frustrating as Nebraska State accomplished the next to impossible—untied and unbeaten!! For two consecutive years we have been NCC champs. Injuries were numerous but they anything but dampened the spirit of the Antelopes.

Sports

"If you want to ride—quit dragging your feet!"—Boroff

McFarland, Back

Mills, Guard

Along with the team distinction of being NCC champs, NSTC was honored with the selection of five players on the Nebraska College Conference All Conference team. Each player on this page received this honor. Naturally we are proud of our boys who make up the majority of this select group.

Poore, Center

F OOTBALL

Rarely, in the history of football, does a school attain the distinction of having an undefeated season. During the 1955 season NSTC won the NCC Conference championship, although meeting two setbacks. In 1956 we attained the ultimate, undefeated and untied. We had some "squeakers," but for the most part all of the wins were decisive. We pay our tribute to the great players and to the coaching staff that brought to our school this "once in a lifetime honor!"

LITTLE ALL-AMERICAN TACKLE

Selected for his all-around play as an outstanding lineman, Mike Augustin—Little All-American tackle. When the dust cleared after a resounding foray, No. 33 was sure to be in the midst of the scrap.

Indications are that few of the "Zikmen" have passage booked on the good ship graduation. This should be more than encouraging news for NSTC Football goers who are in treat for another thrilling year of pigskin antics. We envy those who are staying behind to watch the Antelopes display their talents for the next few years.

Stone, Guard

To single out a specific play or a specific individual for the success of our team would be impractical. At times we saw ragged play, but for those times we witnessed this type of play we more often viewed a caliber of play comparative to the "Sunday afternoon games." Brilliant running on a part of the backfield brought cheers from the large crowds. The bruising line plays too, were a major factor in the success of the past season. With the present coaching staff and the "will to win" —NSTC will be a power to be reckoned with for years to come.

All work and no play for the managers! With pride they can point to their part in making a winning team. The many long hours spent in the conditioning of players, taping of ankles and repairing of equipment are too often not appreciated. Managers were: Al Lewandowski, Gale Johnson, Leo Turner, Marv Rector, Loyd Andrews and William Pen.

It ain't necessarily so—

Visitors to our campus the past year were either mis-informed or shooting too high. In a mid-night raid on the campus "the neighbors down the road" displayed their artistic abilities and proceeded to advertise their intentions. The end result was a night in the "barbed wire hotel" and more humiliating the defeat of their football team by the score of 13-7.

C. Thorell, Back

K. Ozane, End

Wagner, Tackle

Rolls, Back

Encouraging in the least was the depth of material displayed by the 1956 Antelopes. More encouraging was the freedom with which these boys were allowed to play. In the last few games with Boroff on the injured list we witnessed the "Homer Flash" Larry Jacobsen tear up the opposing lines with his tremendous speed and rushing.

Head Football Coach Al Zikmund

As a tribute to his success in guiding NSTC to its second consecutive NCC championship, our coach was again selected Nebraska College Conference Coach of the year. "Zik" in his modest way is not one to take all of the credit. He has repeated over and over that it takes a "will to win" and a capable coaching staff. Indications are that he had both.

Assistant Coaches

They toiled long and hard on the dusty fields. Most often the only person to receive acclaim for a winning team is the head coach. In this instance we know different. Head Coach Zikmund has nothing but the highest praise for his able assistants, without whom the story might have been different.

The trophy case in the Gym is becoming short of space. With the athletic accomplishments of NSTC in the past few years we have received many tokens of achievement. Here the coaches view some of the more recent trophies.

"B" SQUAD

The "B" Squad too has a right to glory. They too had an undefeated football season. Often we forget about these boys who devote as much time and effort towards conditioning and practice as the Varsity.

Coach Foster prepares to send the boys on their merry way with a blast from his trusty six gun.

Competition in the cross country has been only recently introduced to the NSTC scene. Scene for the running this year was the Kearney Country Club, which offered the boys some stiff competition. The Hill and Dalers fared well in each meet in which they were entered.

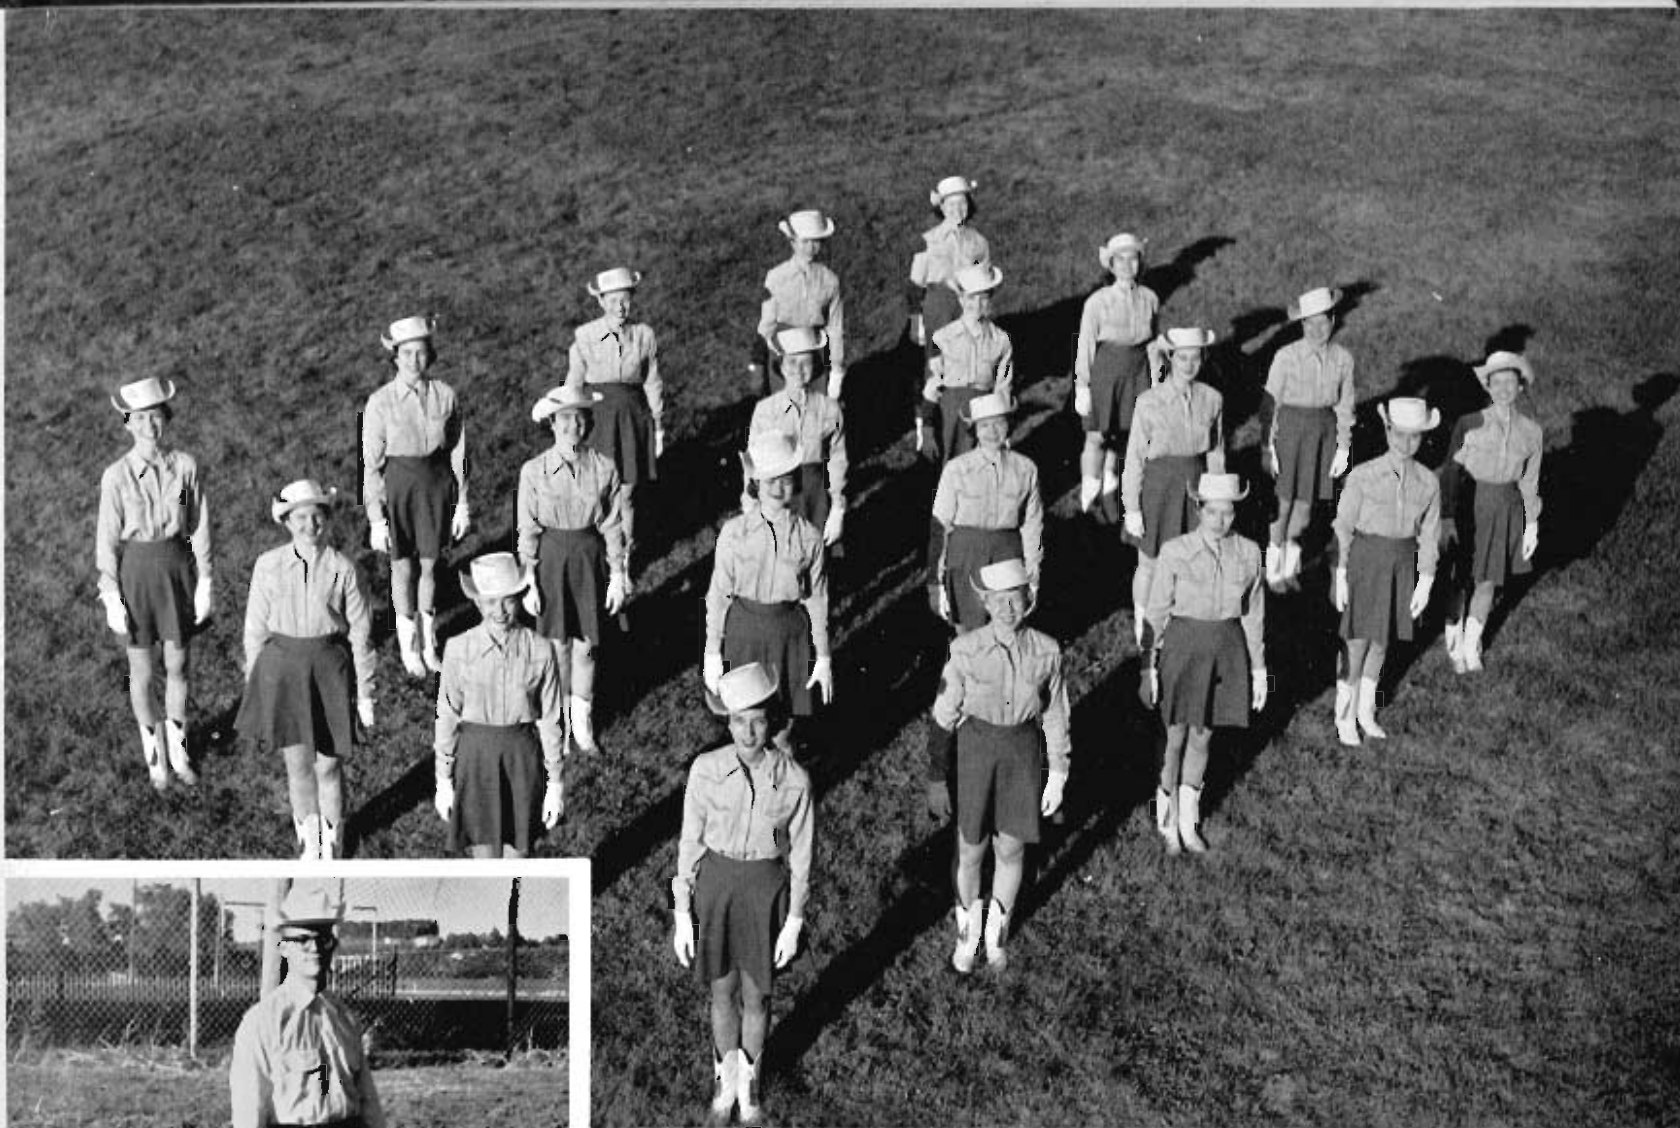

King rushes to overtake his opponent in a thrilling finish.

WAGONEERS

Some of us go to the game to watch the game, others go to watch the cheerleaders, and yet others go to watch the Wagoners with their short skirts and precision movement. Organized on the NSTC campus in 1955 the Wagoners have become a well known campus group. The Wagoners are under the supervision of the Physical Education Department, with Miss Orcutt as director.

In addition to performances at half time for Basketball and Football the Wagoners have the additional duty of representing NSTC in college sponsored parades. Here the Wagoners are pictured as they marched in the Homecoming parade.

RALLY!!

Co-captains Thorell and Augustyn tell the unruly crowd—"We're going to tie 'em up in knots, stomp 'em all the way up the hill to Kearney Lake, and then ship 'em off to China."

With a winning team comes enthusiasm. Loyal fans to the cause this year kicked up their heels and really let loose at some of the pep rallies. Students were more than eager to get out of classes and head downtown to unleash some of their spirit. Ending in the Auditorium the team gets a gala send off with Gerry Jordan ringing the victory bell and the cheerleaders keeping time to the strains "I'll be Glad When you are Dead You Rascal You."

"Hey Joe, where's my shirt?" "I don't know. Who's got my new grey jacket tonight?" "Pipe down in there, you guys, I'm trying to listen to the radio." "Why don't you all shut up so I can get some sleep?" "Aw, get out of bed and come play poker with us, ya' lazy bum." And in the room next door, "Sally, you take off my green sweater this minute." "I won't hurt it. I'm going to the show with Jack tonight." "Why don't you just stay here and play pinochle? The show won't be any fun." And that's the way life goes, borrowing other peoples clothes, playing cards, throwing parties, sleeping at night, and occasionally even doing a bit of studying in Kearney's

STUDENT COUNCIL

Bill Beavers	Merna Rubesman	Sam Gamil	Jim Mitchell	Dale Black	Dayne Smith	Dean Jelden
Bev Long	Clark Yanda	Bill Hardwick	John Nicholson	Jean Nelson	Joellyn Gardner	Sammy Jackson

Student Council representatives are elected through a student vote of the Student Association. On the NSTC campus, which is no exception, elections are controlled by the Greeks. During the month of March the student apathy suddenly turns to activity. Torch parades, election rallies, the biggest signs, and calls of "you dirty politician" highlight the election activity.

Often we ask "and just what does the student council do?" We are sure of one thing at least—they do meet once a week in the Blue and Gold Room of the Student Union. What goes on in this little conclave often is classified as student opinion. Student opinion reached new lows during the years 1956-1957. Advisors to the Student Council for the past year were Miss Roberts and Dr. Kruebeck.

Martin Hall Council

Residents of Martin Hall for women students are governed by an elected board of officers. These officers are responsible for maintaining order in the Hall. Serving as President of the Martin Council for this year was Adell Hillmer. Mrs. Steinmeyer is the housemother for this unit, assisted by Mrs. Rubeck. Residence in Martin Hall is restricted to girls of the Sophomore, Junior and Senior Class.

Case Hall Council

Joellyn Gardner is the elected President of the Case Hall Council. The Case Hall Council in cooperation with the housemother, Mrs. Mathews, is responsible for maintaining law and order amongst those unruly freshmen girls. As of this year all residents of Case Hall are freshmen girls. Residents of the women's lounge, Case Hall, are Freshmen, Sophomore, Junior and some lost Senior boys.

Harrington, Smidt, Trump, Robertson, Black, Armstrong, Hockum, Jack.

Men's Hall Council

Men's Hall Council is responsible for the conduct of those personnel residing in Mens' Hall. Their job is no small one. With some 130 residents of the hall, it at times would appear to be impossible to ride herd on the Freshmen. However, we note that there has been no listed murders, or near murders, so the council must be doing a good job.

Housemother of Men's Hall, Mrs. Sena Long

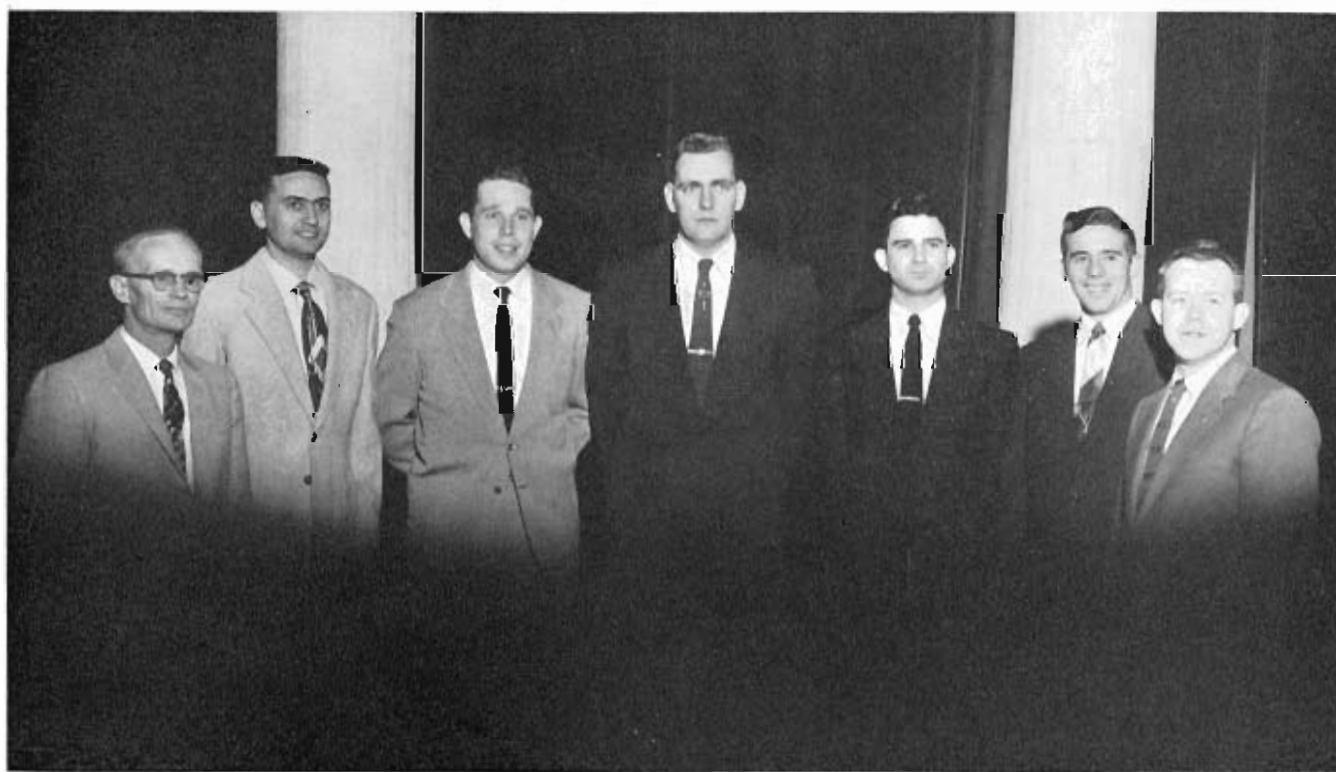

The council of Veteran' Village is often faced with some perplexing problems. As the administrative group of the village they are called upon to make housing arrangements based on a priority basis. Then too, there are the kids. At last count there were some 80 children living in the village. This would indicate that veterans are a busy lot. Although some balk at the classification—we like to refer to it as the "hatchery."

Vets Village Council

HONORARIES

Membership in NSTC's honorary organizations is limited to those students who have shown outstanding abilities in their field and who have maintained an above average scholastic average in subject matter. The primary purpose of all honorary organizations is to further the student's interest in the field with which the organization is associated.

DELTA OMICRON

Delta Omicron was established on the NSTC campus in 1954. Its purpose is to create and foster fellowship and to stimulate the appreciation of good music. Members are required to maintain the highest possible scholastic average and to give material aid to any needy and worthy student.

President is Joanne Kivlighn.

I NTEREST

Interest runs high in NSTC's clubs and extra-curricular activities. Membership in these clubs is not always all fun and no work. Most often the students put forth many hours of effort and hard work to maintain the standing of their club. These non-credit activities all go to make us better qualified to face the long hard pull ahead.

Fish have nothing over these expert swimmers in NSTC's group. In this group students swim for the sheer joy of swimming. Kearney's small pool is not conducive to the best performances for this type of activity however, students do learn some of the more intricate details of this aqua sport. President of Naids is Dwight Hahn.

R ELIGIOUS

At NSTC, religion plays an important part in education. To fulfill the need for religion in college life and to provide a church home away from home, many organizations have been formed. These groups provide a meeting place for students with like religious interests and work to promote religious endeavor on campus.

GAMMA DELTA

NSTC's chapter of Gamma Delta, a national organization of Lutheran students, was organized on the NSTC campus in 1954. The main objectives the club keeps in view, in its activities, are encouraging and maintaining Lutheran fellowship and promoting study of the Bible. The group seeks to relate campus life to the Christian faith and to stimulate a deeper appreciation in Lutheran students for their denomination.

INTER-VARSITY

This interdenominational group was founded on the NSTC campus in 1946. It is founded on the belief that intellectual growth should include progress toward religious maturity. It sponsors a program of religious education and fellowship without regard to a particular Christian creed.

L. S. A.

L. S. A. is organized for the promotion of the Lutheran principles among Lutheran Students attending NSTC. L. S. A. attempts to bring every Lutheran Student into contact with other Lutheran students, and has as its goal preparing college students to become leaders of their church tomorrow.

C HRISTMAS WEEK

Heading the list of Christmas Week activities is the presentation of the Messiah by the Music Department of the College. The presentation of the Messiah has become a tradition in the community and is classified as one of the outstanding programs of its type. Participation in the Messiah is not limited to enrolled students of the college but is open to all members of the community. Often we find the leading parts being sung by citizens of the surrounding area. As a seasonal project the art department students painted and presented the mural, on the opposite page, to the Elks Club of Kearney.

"Something old, something new . . ." was the word for winter sports at NSTC. Very much present upon the scene was Les Livingston and his Knights of the Round Ball, who tried valiantly to "rescue" a conference championship. Right up to the last minute the Antelopes were in contention for the crown. With the many new faces we are sure that future years will bring great accomplishments. Hinkle, Nun and Sanford will not be around to stir the team next year but we can look forward to great things from Sprague, Collison and Smidt.

The race for the NCC championship in Basketball went right down to the wire. As this book goes to press it still has not been determined exactly what the status of the conference is. The "lopers" tried valiantly to bring the championship to NSTC but a few bad breaks and off nights let it slip away. Encouraging was the play of the Freshmen members of the team to let it be known that NSTC will be a basketball power to be reckoned with for the next years to come.

Hinkle lays one up against Concordia.

The 1956-1957 Antelopes

In his first year as NSTC basketball mentor, Coach Livingston's teams have charted some impressive victories. With the possibility of a new gym and the attraction of top State athletes to NSTC, we are looking forward to great things in the court game. Coach Livingston doubles as an assistant football coach and head golf and tennis coach.

Head Basketball Coach

Les Livingston

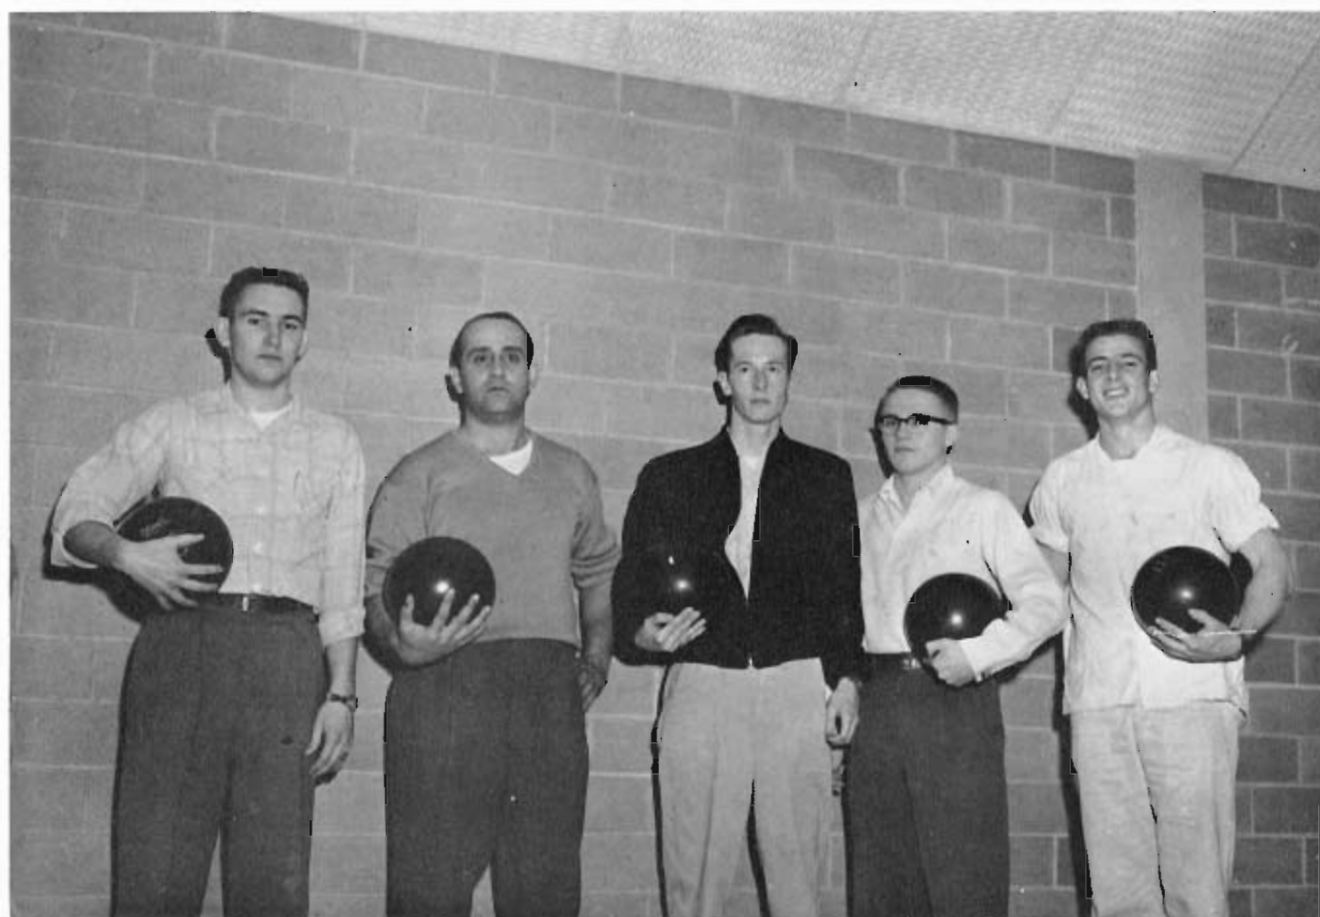

Dayne Smith and Darrel Loesch go after the round ball in the start of the Intramural Basketball season. Tossing the ball is College President, H. L. Cushing.

I NTRAMURALS

On week nights, if one journeys to the Gym, during the winter season you will see some better than average basketball. Intra-mural players play for keeps as evidenced by some of the scores of the past season. The past season there were four leagues—American, Ivy, National, and Western. After the smoke cleared in the double elimination tournament the Jokers of the National League were declared intramural champions.

Leland Copeland, Athletic Instructor and director of intramural play, plots the play for the elimination tournament.

BOWLING LEAGUE GAINED LEGIONS

With the completion of Hilltop Lanes—one of the outstanding plants of its type in this part of the country—NSTC students suddenly showed an avid interest in Bowling. An intramural league was formed, composed of eight teams. The competition was stiff and the eventual winners of the 1st half tourney was team No. 7. Students participated in the regular league play against local bowlers and have given a fine showing.

Sam Gamel displays some championship form in attempting to remove the timbers.

GOLF

Of all the sports associated with NSTC, Golf is probably the most difficult game to master. It takes patience and skill to become an average golfer and more patience and skill to become a better than average golfer. Under the able leadership of Coach Livingston, we are expecting great things from the Antelope Greensmen as this goes to press.

John Brady—Promising material

Reickhart lines one up and fires for the hole at the Kearney Country Club—scene of NSTC Golf matches.

Pawnee Bill, Charlie, and Sitting Bull prepare to eliminate Dotty Tate, the doting lover of Frank Butler who has just been caught messing with the sight on Annie's gun.

A NNIE GET YOUR GUN

NSTC Theater goers were privileged this season to witness one of the outstanding musical contributions in the history of this college. Under the capable direction of Richard Welsbacher and Bill Lynn the college players outdid themselves. Joyce Bishop and Ewald Ehly as Annie Oakley and Frank Butler contributed much to the success of this Rogers and Hammerstein Musical. Joyce sang and deftly wielded her musket to the delight of her audience. Ewald as Frank Butler, although no match for Annie and her gun, after a series of incidents, finally regains Annie.

Secondary parts of Annie were played by members of the Choraleers, a select group of the All College Choir. This group moved off and on the stage with precision of professionals, singing their way into the hearts of the audience. Credits for this performance are too numerous to mention here, but we can't forget those supporting personnel who contributed so much to the success of this play.

Every school has its problems, and yet few are the same. However, one thing is for sure, most students have a problem which they can't do anything about and that is the faculty. Some students have found ways to establish "points" but for most of us we just have to find a way. Some we grow to love —others to avoid. We have found NSTC's faculty to be stern, intelligent, conservative, understanding and most cooperative. Their influence will be felt through the years. Dr. Leo Thomas is Dean of Education and Chairman of NSTC's

Faculty

Garnet Austin, Chairman Leona Failor, Don Goetchius, Bob Lundt, Myron Holm.

EDUCATION

The Education Department strives to develop in each student the ability to make for himself a philosophy of education that will meet the needs in the teaching field of his choice. Requirements vary in the department, but one thing is for sure—you can't get out of NSTC without umpteen hours of education in methods, psychology, history of education, audio-visual aids, and the final blast of student teaching. All of this has led us to be better teachers???

Chairman Delia Garrett, Bernice Mentor, Luella Williams, Wilma Larson.

HOME ECONOMICS

Future homemakers of America are taught how to cook, sew, and manage a household in the Home Economics department of NSTC. If we marry a Home Ec major or minor we at least know that she knows how to boil water.

The Child development center is one of the important phases in the department. Here one learns how to handle those unruly kids.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS

Activity in the Industrial Arts Department is wide. Wood and metal crafts are high on the agenda. Faculty members of the Industrial Ed department are Olsen, Chairman, Krubeck, Carlson, Envick, Munson, and Messman. Under the guiding hands of these instructors you can learn how to make a chair, drive a car, plan a house, and/or make a tool.

Miss Clara Ockinga, Chairman Roland Welch, Dale Ingram and Don Jester.

COMMERCE

Over the years the Commerce Department has produced some outstanding personnel in the commercial field. We hope this year is no exception. Located in the Vocational Arts building Commerce activities vary from shorthand, business machines, typing, law, methods, and consumer buying to that ever puzzling bookkeeping.

Mr. John McGee, Speech Therapy; Mr. Harold Ahrendts, Chairman; Mr. Richard Welsbacher, Dramatics.

SPEECH

Forensic activity varies from the development of the ability to discuss, debate and present information to speech correction. Additional speech activity includes the operation of NSTC's radio station KVOF and the presentation of drama. Through the years NSTC's Speech Department has made outstanding achievements as evidenced by the many awards made to students of speech.

Miss Laurel Holcomb and Miss Alice Payne.

LIBRARY

The facilities of NSTC's library are of a great boon to students. Here we can obtain authoritative information on most any subject. With the rapid growth of NSTC's student body we have found the library to be at times a bit small. However, in the near future it is hoped that this situation will be remedied with the building of a new physical plant.

Art, its appreciation, and its practical application have been bestowed upon us by NSTC's Art Department. Advanced students of art have made some outstanding contributions to the field. Many of these contributions have been exhibited throughout the country.

Chairman Dr. Leora Mundell, Miss Rosa and Miss Phyllis Aspon.

LANGUAGES

Language is recognized as the basic tool subject, and literature as one of the essentials of cultural and broadening experiences. Language activities vary from the study of our own language to the proper usage of foreign languages. Through the years we will recall the many pleasant memories of association with the Language Department. The essentials of English, German, French, Literature, Journalism and methods will no doubt be our most valuable tool in attaining success in our profession.

Dr. Wm. Bruner, Chairman; Dr. John Bliese, Harvey Cole and Mildred Hanson.

BIOLOGY

Activity in the Department of Biology involves the study of life and life's processes. As we complete our studies of Botany and Zoology we become familiar with and amazed at the many phases of living organism that we heretofore took for granted.

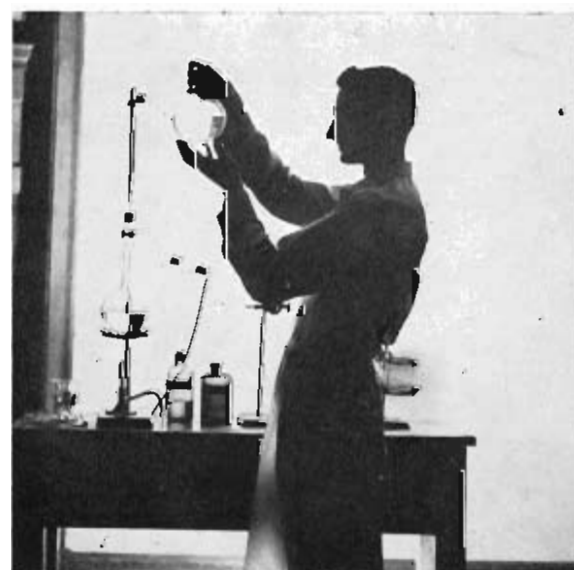

Dr. Mary Morse, Mr. Elmer Bockmann, Dayle Fitske, Mr. L. Larson and Chairman Donald Fox.

PHYSICAL SCIENCE

Nebraska State College has always been recognized as having one of the outstanding Physical Science Departments in the nation. Under the capable leadership of Dr. Fox the department has produced outstanding Physics, Chemistry and Math personnel. We are proud to have been affiliated with this department and its personnel for their efforts in relating to us the aspects of Physical Science.

Dr. Phillip Holmgren, Chairman Dr. Lyle Mantor, Miss Jennie Conrad and Mr. N. Diffenderfer.

SOCIAL SCIENCE

Man's story is best related through the recordings of history. The Social Science Department gives us insight into the growth of man through the years, recording all pertinent data, so that we may better understand the world we live in.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Not only is it important for us to be strong of mind but it is equally important that we be strong of body. NSTC's Physical Education Department offers us the opportunity to develop our physical stamina and our knowledge of physical activity to the maximum.

Leland Copeland, Wm. Schaffer, Miss Orcutt, Chairman Foster, A. Zikmund, Miss Yinyling, Les Livingston.

A. O. THOMAS SCHOOL

Prospective teachers, supervisors, and administrators receive the opportunity to study teaching under actual conditions in the A. O. Thomas training school. The school is organized and conducted so as to provide the best educational opportunities for the girls and boys privileged to attend. A Staff of highly trained and experienced supervisors, each of whom has demonstrated superior ability in his field, conduct the training school.

Located in the Vocational Arts Building the Nursery School is one of the outstanding schools of its type in this area. The Nursery School is under the direct supervision of the Home-Economics Department. Here the "wee ones" learn how to socialize with other children of their age so as to make the adjustment easier upon reaching school age. Wilma Larsen is the school supervisor.

NURSERY SCHOOL

Mrs. Gallemore, Dr. A. Cucci, Wm. Lynn, Allan Staples, George Whitfield.

DEPARTMENT OF MUSIC

Activity in the Music Department varies greatly, with one common goal. This goal is to instill in the students of NSTC, who so desire, an understanding and appreciation of good music. Students who study in this department are privileged to work under some of the better qualified experts in this field. Mr. George Whitfield is a teacher of piano, Mr. Staples, Violin, Mr. Lynn, Choir, Dr. Cucci, Concert and Marching Band, and Mrs. Gallemore teaches organ.

One of the outstanding students of the Music Department is Mr. Don Mason of Kearney. Don is concert master of the Kearney Symphony Orchestra. Through the past years Kearney students have thrilled to the contributions of Don on his Violin.

Members of the College Choir have formed a group known as the Madrigal Singers. This group of outstanding voices performs at NSTC musical functions. The specialty of this group is the chanting of spiritual offerings.

PRESIDENT

Herbert L. Cushing

For twenty-one years Herbert L. Cushing has been an outstanding school leader. His warm smile and entertaining speeches have endeared him to the student body and faculty alike. His forward-looking administration exemplifies the spirit that has helped NSTC to grow to its present status as the largest State College, in the State of Nebraska. His untiring efforts on behalf of the College have resulted in the greatest building campaign NSTC has ever known, more than doubling the educational plant in the last three years. We saw concrete results of his dream of the future when Martin Hall and the new Vocational Arts buildings opened, and the still unfinished Student Union, Men's Hall, and Women's Hall, gives mute testimony that under Dr. Cushing's guiding hand, NSTC will continue to move forward.

"A College is an institution consciously devoted to the pursuit of knowledge, the solution of problems, the critical appreciation of achievement, and training of men at a really high level."—Abraham Flexner. . . . To the fulfillment of these high aims stands Nebraska State College. At Kearney it is commonly recognized that, while the achievement of a high degree of education is of utmost importance, the maintenance of a close and friendly association between student and administration contributes greatly to the development and general well being of the individual student. Education at NSTC is not merely learning the teachings of the past, but a continuous development of the minds and spirits of all its students.

Administration

Max Casey was appointed Dean of Men in June 1956. Since that date, those of us who know him (and most of us do) have recognized in him the qualities of excellent character. He has demonstrated that he is willing and able to counsel us on our problems and often he suggests a very real solution.

DEAN OF MEN

DEAN OF WOMEN

The Dean of Women for the past year has been Mrs. Ruth Sisler. In our associations with her we have found her to be a person of pleasant personality and more than cooperative. Mrs. Sisler in her present capacity exercises direct supervision over all women students enrolled at NSTC. Her pleasant smile will be one of the good things we will remember of NSTC.

B. F. Stutheit has been newly elevated to his present position as Dean of Student Affairs. In this capacity it is Mr. Stutheit's duty to concern himself with the activities involving the lives of students attending NSTC. The creation of a new position creates new responsibilities. Mr. Stutheit has demonstrated that he can take "the bull by the horns" and offer workable solutions to most any problem.

DEAN OF STUDENT AFFAIRS

PLACEMENT DIRECTOR

NSTC has been commended highly on many occasions for its excellent placement service. The majority of this credit goes to Mr. Del Danker who so ably heads this department. Teachers and prospective teachers register with Mr. Danker and his crew and in the majority of instances they are able to secure employment. Naturally they cannot guarantee a position—but almost.

PERSONNEL

Important to the function of any college are those personnel who serve in the administrative capacity. Their duties vary greatly—but essentially they are very important in the coordination of the mountains of financial, service and records keeping activities in a college of this size. We respect and offer our gratitude for the unsolicited favors they have extended over the years.

Spring

Miss Pat Ott
Mardi Gras Princess

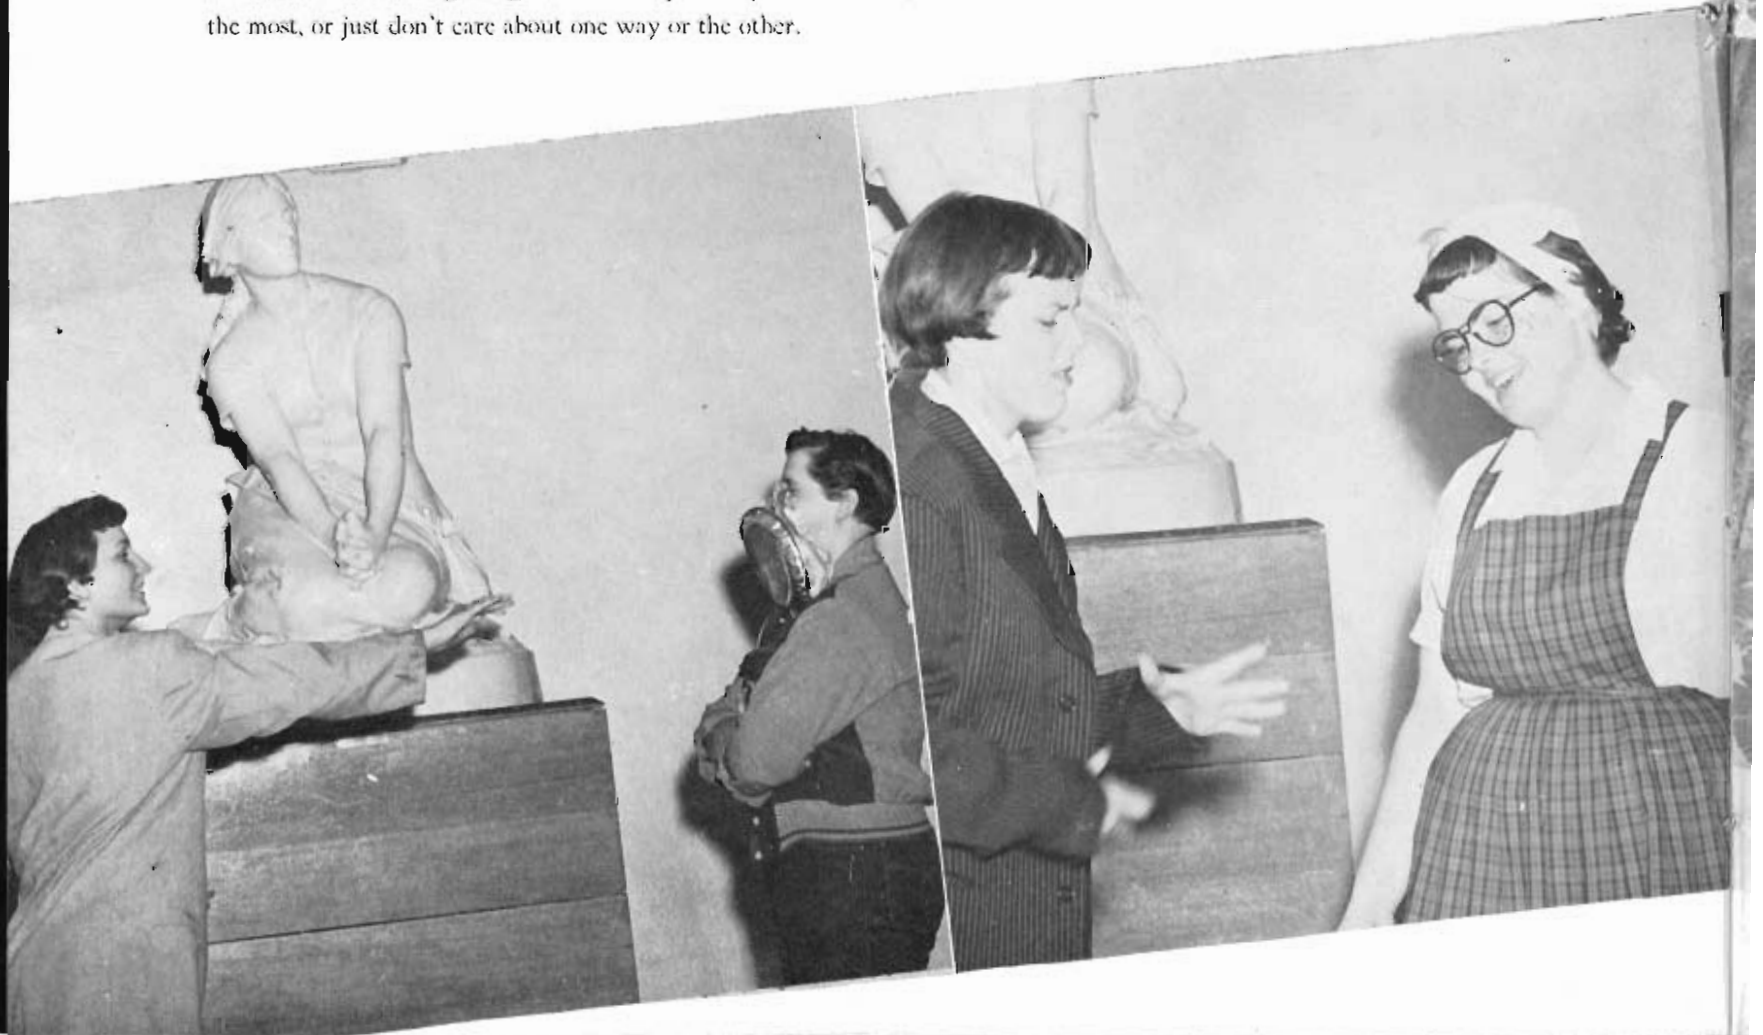

Mr. Ewald Ehly
Mardi Gras King

Campus life, according to all authorities, should contain: balanced diets, regular hours, good study habits, intellectual companionship, healthy atmosphere, stimulating lectures and intramural sports. If Kearney's campus life falls short of these ideals, one thing is certain—there's plenty of fun. The Mardi Gras is the season's special period of general letting down of hair and inhibitions. NSTC's 1957 Mardi Gras was a hoop-la-la. Special activities included a vaudeville show, skits, chance booths and the traditional dance.

Mardi Gras

Some people contend that television has stimulated a new interest in vaudeville. Students at Nebraska State will be quick to say that interest here has never died out. When it's curtain time at the spring carnival show "Mardi Gras" the students really show their stuff. There are other means of enjoyment for the non-theatrical group. Social organizations on the campus contribute largely to the success of the carnival through the sponsoring of booths, ranging from "games of chance" to sending telegrams to the person you love most, hate the most, or just don't care about one way or the other.

The first sign of spring isn't always the chirping of robins or the growth of tiny buds on trees and bushes. Not at Kearney, anyway. Long before the last chilly blasts of winter have departed, an advance crew of trackmen and prospective trackmen are working out on the cinders, unlimbering muscles that haven't done anything more strenuous all winter than tipping a Coke bottle. Tennis players start batting the ball around to get the feel of the racket. It's been rumored that golf players swing a club in their rooms, but that's only a rumor. Before anyone knows it, spring is here, and then gone, and exciting days are only a memory.

Sports

"Men—this is a stop watch!"

"It's fun to run with the champion's" is and has been the motto of the Kearney cindermen for the past few years, and run they have. The Antelopes have rescued title after title and set many records that are the envy of all of the members of the NCC conference. As this book goes to press the prospects of another repeat performance are very good.

T RACK

Duane Burton is one of the outstanding prospects for this year's track squad. Having competed in the fall cross-country races, Duane has indicated that he has the stamina and ability to bring to Kearney additional distance laurels.

A highlight of the 1956 track season was the qualification of members of the NSTC track squad to compete in the NAIA Olympic try-outs in California. During the past summer Joe McFarland, Coach Foster, Don Ayers, Jim Hansen and Clayton Scott journeyed to the west coast to compete in this event. Although none of the team qualified for the Olympics—they made an excellent showing amongst the competition.

Miss Mary Fochtman
1957 Invitational Track Queen

Armstrong strains every muscle to reach the 60' mark in the shot.

NSTC's relay teams have always placed well in competition. Lopers Armogast and Kempf exchange batons in the mile relay

Sten Garretson and Gerald King take time out from their distance running to pose for the photographer.

Coach Charlie Foster, in addition to producing some of the finest thincled teams in this part of the country is also the director of Athletics for Nebraska State College. Under his able leadership Kearney College has become one of the greatest sports powers in the midwest.

SUMMER THEATER

Advanced students of speech direct and present, as a part of their speech requirements, one act plays during the summer season. During the past summer we were privileged to see "Tooth or Shave," "Aria da Capo" and "Mooney's Kid Don't Cry."

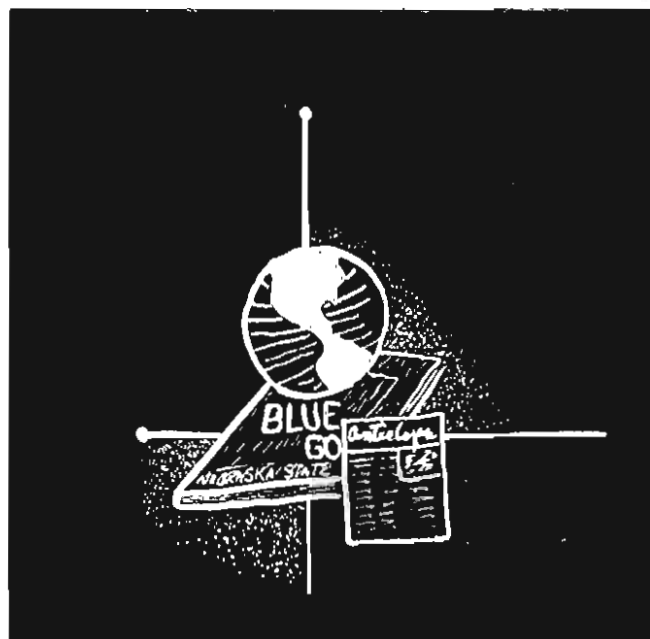

Student directors take complete charge of their production. This includes properties, staging and casting. Seen this year in the summer theater productions were Bert Gallimore, Don Main, Rich Welker, Jackie Hellman, Thane Hascall, Kathy Freeman, Steve Anderson and Dagmar Welker. Brian Reicks, aspiring to be an actor at the age of 5 months, starred in his first role, via recording, as Mooney's kid that did cry.

PUBLICATIONS

If a student has a desire to express himself or has creative abilities he most often wanders over to the Journalism department and asks "what's cooking." From that moment forward he finds himself in the position of editor of a paper, reporter, artist, business manager or in any one of the other odd jobs that must be done around a publications office. Publications enrich a student's education whether it be reporting the news as it happens, writing entertaining feature stories or providing a handsomely bound record of a year's activities.

VIVE-A-LA CLEVELAND!!!!

Editor of this year's Blue and Gold is Charles (Chic) Reicks of Brighton, Michigan. Poor Charley—into everyone's life some rain must fall, but this year it fell in buckets. Promises came fast but when it came down to the wire no one showed up to do the work. We found that we had to take our own pictures, print our own pictures, be our own runner, copywriter, layout, and general handyman. We know that our book will not reach the expectations of all—but we hope some will appreciate it.

*Best Wishes to my Jovite photographer
Charles Reicks*

BLUE AND GOLD

Business Manager of the Blue and Gold was Bill Beavers of Kearney. Bill was responsible for keeping the books in order and to sell the advertising.

Karen Worley of Kearney served as artist for this year's edition of the yearbook.

Editors of the Antelope for the past year were, Bob Moline, York, first semester and Bob Hendricks, Sidney, second semester.

ANTELOPE

Heading the Business Staff of this year's Antelope was Dale Falter, Ord Junior. Pictured here are assistants Henderson, Hoffman, Olson, Falter, and Jurgenson.

Farnstrom, Dunbar, Olson, Waldman, Brodine, Hunn

D. Clark, Gabbart, Milldyke, Eversoll, Brady

Few students realize the importance of a college newspaper in the overall operation of a college. Without the Antelope few of us would actually know what is happening on the NSTC Campus. The Antelope is published weekly by the Journalism department of NSTC. Growing pains are a symbol of NSTC and the Antelope too is feeling these pains. However, through the past year it has adjusted admirably under the direction of Don Briggs and has suddenly blossomed into a publication that students should be proud of.

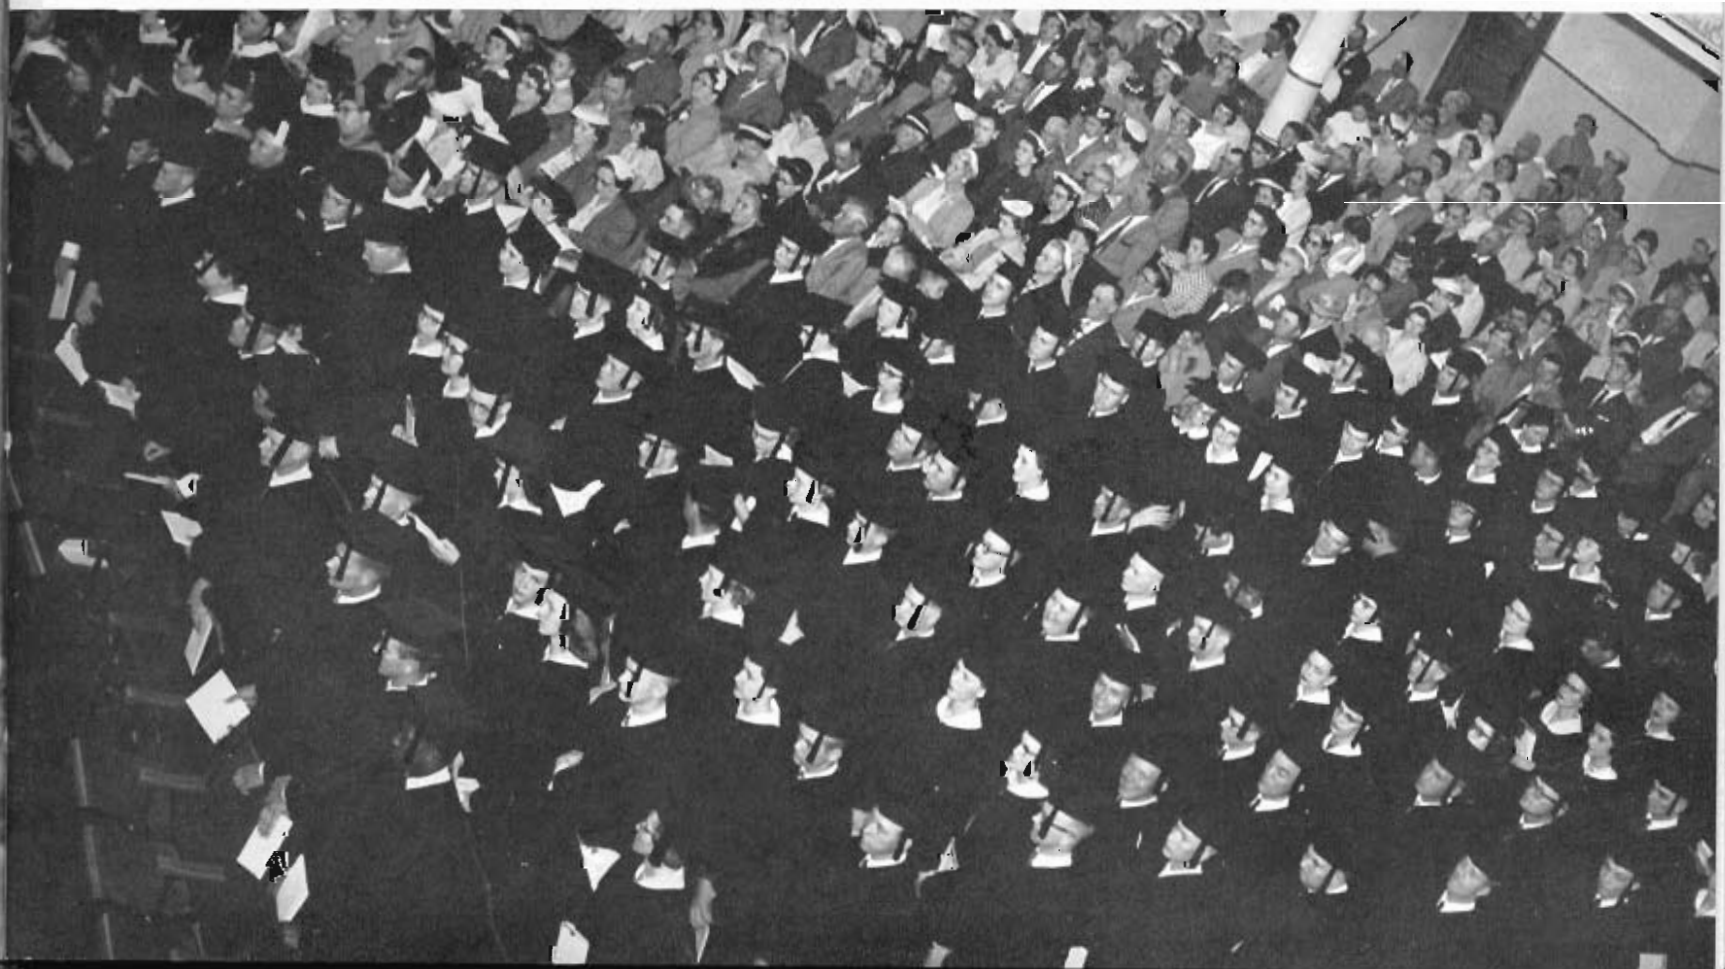

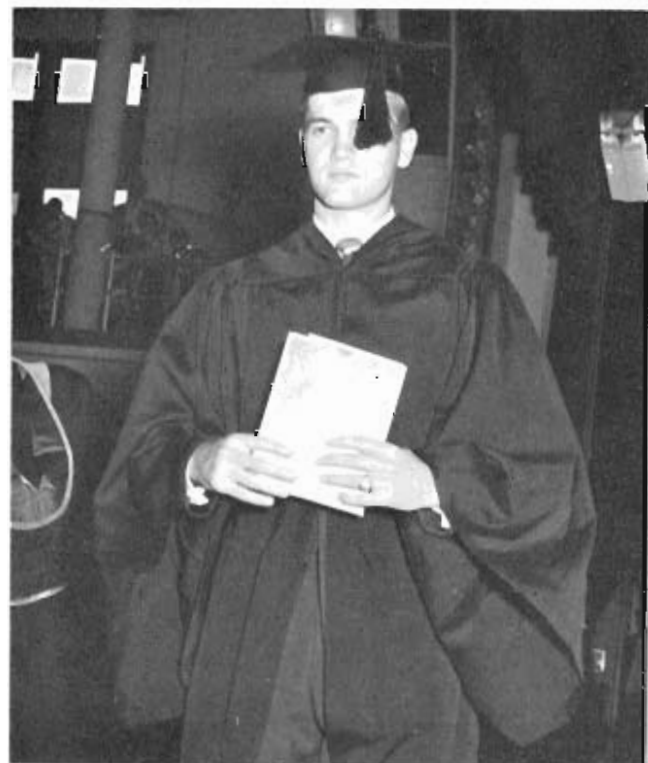

Loes, Morgan, Kelly, B. Clark, Siebler

C OMMENCEMENT

The fulfillment of four long years of working and dreaming. Although to most of us commencement signifies the end of formal education, it is in reality a beginning—the beginning of new worlds to conquer in teaching, business, and professional fields. With pride we can point to our degree because it entitles us to a special type of consideration. What we have earned we have spent, what we have given—we still have.

ALL COLLEGE BAND

A highlight of the winter season at NSTC is the presentation of the All College Band Concert. This year Kearney Music lovers were presented with an outstanding concert, under the direction of Dr. Angelo Cucci. Members of the All College band form to make the NSTC marching band which performs at the football games during the fall months. During the winter season members of the band form what is classified as a "pep band" which strengthens the spirit of all personnel attending the basketball games.

CHORALEERS

From the all college choir the music department, under the direction of Mr. William Lynn form the Choraleers. This outstanding group of mixed voices performs at various times throughout the year. During the past year we were privileged to hear this group on television as a part of the Christmas Concert. Many of the students took leading roles in the college musical "Annie Get Your Gun." During the spring the Choraleers will journey to schools throughout the state to present various concerts.

CRADLE SONG

One of the outstanding productions of the NSTC Dramatic Department was the presentation of the Cradle Song. Under the able direction of Mr. Welsbacher the major all girl cast moved about in their roles as Nuns in a convent with all of the ease and dignity that is fitting to such a situation.

INTER-HIGH DAY

Each year we are privileged to welcome the students of the area high schools to compete in achievement exams. Under the sponsorship of the college administration in conjunction with the student council each year the entry list grows by leaps and bounds. At the present time somewhat over 1,000 students participate in the exams. Naturally we are somewhat amazed at the grades these top students attain in the examinations. We wonder if by chance that we should return to our high schools and obtain a refresher course.

They came as Freshmen—new to the campus and doing everything for the first time so that college life seemed gay and carefree. They were a large class, and not at all the typical idea of wide-eyed Freshmen, although some did seem a bit wet behind the ears. They were that year's crop of high school graduates, people who had worked a year or so before coming to school, and ex-service-men. They played around and had fun, and then learned that the day of reckoning comes to him who studies not. In the remaining years that led to their eventually leaving NSC as educated men and women, they learned to budget time so that play didn't interfere with work and vice-versa. They learned to be an integral part of NSTC's

S ENIORS

The new tomorrow has finally come for the Seniors who have anticipated graduation with eagerness and anxiety. The world has opened its arms to accept the well-prepared men and women, but they linger for awhile to glance backward over the many memories of their past four years at Kearney—work and study, fun and good times. Holding the Senior class offices were: Tom Morris, President; Laverne Robertson, Vice-President; Millie Novosad, Secretary; and Barbara Viren, Treasurer. Dick Mayberry served as Student Council President, Bernadine Eckout as Homecoming Queen, Chic Reicks President of the Inter-Fraternity Sorority Council and Editor of the Blue and Gold.

EDITORS NOTES:

Note I—It is an editor's prerogative to insert notes here and there in a publication. (How else do you think we can fill this hole?) The Blue and Gold Editor is no exception. We've spent so much time blowing other people's horns, we've decided to blow our own. This is also the place to mention the work of our artist, Miss Karen Worley. Also to the engravers, the Capital Engraving, Mr. Drew DeVrient and his legion in Lincoln and to the Woodruff Printers. Their patience has been gratifying when so many other people have not.

Note II Naturally when this book hits the reader's eye we will hear cries of anguish go up—we were slighted or now it isn't or wasn't exactly like this. However, taking all things into consideration, the lack of funds, lack of a staff, and in many instances lack of any cooperation—we are proud. We have tried to bring you an annual that is indicative of life here at NSTC during the year 1956-1957. We missed some events that is sure—but we feel that we have covered more than ever before. We hope that this edition kicks off for NSTC a new era in yearbooks.

JUNIORS

Already well-acquainted with college life, the juniors are in the process of accomplishing their goal with only one more glorious year to graduation. Their interests have expanded greatly with participation in all phases of student activities. Soon, they too, will reap the profits of a full and prosperous education. Elected as officers for this year's junior class were Don Hein, President, Jerry Brady, Vice-President, Sharon Stear, Secretary, and Adelle Hillmer, Treasurer.

FRESHMEN

The door to success, opportunity, and good-living has been opened to college Freshmen. They have made an advancement towards a new and better life by stimulating their interest not only educationally but also socially. New Student Week registration resulted in the formation of good qualities. Student Council members elected to represent the class were Jean Nelson, Joellyn Gardner and Sammy Jackson. The Freshmen sweetheart was Liz Roberts. Officers elected for the 1956-1957 year were Tom Smith, President, Bob Lawhead, Vice President, Sharon Elfring, Secretary and Liz Roberts, Treasurer.

CAFETERIA

Located in Men's Hall, the cafeteria serves all NSTC students who desire to use these facilities. In 1956-1957 we found that a new ruling required that all students residing in residence halls be required to purchase their meals in the cafeteria. In general the plan was a success and brought forth additional revenue, but it also brought forth some gripes. With the building of a new Student Union it is expected that its facilities will include a larger and more modern dining room.

STUDENT UNION

The present Student Union (affectionally referred to by some as the "Sheep Shed") is on its way out. Construction has started on a new Student Union that will be the envy of the state. Expected to be completed sometime in 1958 the union will provide additional facilities that have been so needed for many years. The new union will provide meeting rooms, publications offices, and a dining room. For many of us the old "fire trap" will hold many memories, for there we first met some of our most beloved acquaintances, discussed, cussed, and in general wasted a lot of time.
